92 Killed In 2 Crashes

Walter Ragan, Coniwingo, Md. (left), and S-2 Kenneth LeVan, Waterford, N.Y., inspect tail section of wrecked Eastern Air Lines DC-4 which crashed near Bainbridge, Md., killing all 53 persons aboard. Death toll equalled that of any heavier-than-air calamity in the world.

Broken wing and intact tail section of wrecked United Airlines passenger ship which crashed on takeoff from LaGuardia Airport, New York, is shown in close-up. Thirty-nine persons lost their lives in the tragedy. In foreground are rocks which plane struck, and in centre background is stack of baggage owned by dead and injured passengers.

Butter May Be Removed From Rationing List

OTTAWA (CP)—Canadians could expect today to pay more soon for such items as shirts, soap and gloves as the government took another step in its decontrol program with predictions another, bigger step will be taken shortly, including the end of butter rationing.

The prices board announced Sunday night that, effective today, import subsidies were being reduced on imported cotton and cotton products, inedible fats used in making soap and some imported leathers.

This, a spokesman said, would or so, may abolish butter rationing. It was believed the forthcoming announcement would end rationing and price ceilings on such foodstuffs as jams, jellies, honey, ice cream and seasonal products as well as butter. Meals in restaurants, hotels and public eating places are expected to be removed from price ceilings.

In the clothing and household field the announcement is expected to lift controls on such things as women's and children's neckwear, aprons and cuffs, men's underwear, drapes, window blinds, floor mops, embroidery, crochet yarns, dress and curtain netting and fireplace equipment.

Parisian Bakeries Closed By Strike; Mob Demands Bread

PARIS (AP)—A bakery strike today closed 40 per cent of Paris bread stores and added to the labor troubles of the French government.

A threatened strike of 3,000,000 French shopkeepers, however, was canceled without explanation. Leaders of the Shopkeepers' Union had planned to close stores through France Wednesday in protest against price ceilings, rationing and other government regulations.

A small crowd massed before the residence of Premier Paul Ramadier and cried, "Give us bread." The French press agency predicted that if the bakery strike should be prolonged several days, it is possible an appeal will be made to military labor.

The strike was scheduled for 48 hours, but already long lines of housewives were standing to receive reduced bread rations. Some 2,000 oil company workers in the Paris area struck for a production bonus in another outbreak of labor discontent.

Many Parisians went to restaurants because of the bread shortage. But some restaurants served potatoes instead of bread. Three-fifths of the bakeries remained open, with non-union "artisans" doing the baking and other labor.

The daily ration was cut from 250 grams to 150 (about eight to five ounces) for the two-day period.

The bakery workers struck to enforce their demand for a 1,500-franc ($12) bonus, which owners rejected after first granting overtime pay and paid vacations. The strike was limited to Paris and suburbs.

Conscription Of 950,000 Annually Urged In U.S. To Build Huge Army

WASHINGTON (CP)—The United States, one of seven countries including Canada which rely exclusively on volunteers to maintain their peacetime armies and navies, today studied a recommendation that compulsory training of up to 950,000 U.S. youths a year is an "urgent military necessity."

President Truman's nine-member Advisory Commission on Universal Training, in a report made public Sunday night, says the alternative to peacetime training and other multi-billion dollar outlays for national defense is to invite "extermination."

SWIFT DESTRUCTION

The $1,750,000,000-a-year training program, for which all youths in the United States would register on reaching the age of 17, is strongly urged by the civilian commission, whose report depicts the possibilities of an atomic age so swift and so ferociously destructive that events of the first 60 days would determine whether the United States won or lost.

The commission, headed by Dr. Karl Compton, termed the U.S. military forces a "hollow shell" in recommending that Congress adopt "at once" a plan for compulsory training of all 18-year-old males, who would receive six months of basic training in camps or on shipboard. The report says the U.S. army has been "dismantled" and the ground forces have only 2 1/3 full combat divisions available for duty.

The President is advised that universal military training would enable the United States to mobilize about 8,000,000 men, ready to fight, within a year after a new call to arms.

By reducing the training time necessary after induction, the report says, the system would "speed the pace of our offensive against the enemy, reduce the probable total casualties, and shorten the war."

Of the 54 world powers which maintain armies, the report says only seven—Canada, the United States, Australia, Eire, India, New Zealand and the Dominican Republic—use the volunteer system.

The President's advisory group painted this bleak picture if its warning goes unheeded:

"For a few years—from four to 10—"our monopoly of the atomic bomb" and the availability of battle-trained veterans of the Second World War may serve as insurance against a sneak assault on the U.S. homeland.

But the precipitate drop in preparedness will encourage "those to whom weakness on the part of peace-loving nations is a passport to aggression."

Coldwell Attacks D.P. Importation

OTTAWA (CP)—Importation of displaced persons from Europe under labor contracts was attacked by M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, in the Commons this afternoon. He launched a debate on the issue as he obtained an adjournment of the regular business of the House to discuss the question, on the ground it was a matter of "urgent public importance."

Pastures Flooded

FORT LANGLEY, B.C. (CP)—Flood Waters of the Fraser today swept more than 2,000 acres of pasture and hay land in the Fort Langley and West Langley districts, 30 miles east of Vancouver.

Missing; Feared Dead

PRINCE RUPERT (CP)—Cautioning off the highway while driving from here to Terrace, B.C., Saturday, Peter Conrad Sheremeta, 36, of Edmonton, traffic representative for the War Assets Corporation in the Prince Rupert area, is believed to have lost his life in the flood waters of the Skeena River near Salvus station, 60 miles east of here.

2 Persons Missing, 9 Hurt In Blast

EDINBURG, Pa. (AP)—Nine persons were injured and two are missing following an explosion today which wrecked two buildings at the American Cyanamid and Chemical Corporation plant near this western Pennsylvania town. Police said one of the buildings destroyed was the "jelly house," where gelatin dynamite was made.

4 Die In Train Wreck

HAMM, Germany (AP)—Railway officials reported today that four passengers were killed and 10 seriously injured Sunday when a German civilian train was derailed on the Dueseldorft-Altenbecken line. Faulty track was blamed.

Decision Of Britain, U.S. May Force Canada To Consider Plan

OTTAWA (CP)—Possibility was seen on Parliament Hill today that if action followed a sharp call for compulsory military training in the United States it might lead Canada into a political issue which she so far has managed to avoid in time of peace.

With Britain already committed to compulsory peacetime training for her youth, the Canadian government was expected to take considerable notice of news headlines which reported that a U.S. Presidential commission had strongly advised the launching of a $1,750,000,000-a-year system of universal military training for 18-year-olds.

If both the military giants to which she is tied come out for the measure, Canada, too, might well have to give it ample consideration.

But it is the sort of thing that will have to jell, a while before it reaches any advanced development, Defence Minister Claxton, for instance, told a reporter today he had read the news stories, but he declined comment.

"That would involve a somewhat delicate political problem in this country," the reporter suggested. Mr. Claxton merely chuckled.

Meanwhile officials of the Defence Department read the news with interest. As servicemen whose job it is to prepare for any eventuality, their feeling was that the more trained troops you have around if trouble broke the better it would be for them, and for Canada. But they recognized it as primarily a political issue which involved government policy.

$200,000,000 A YEAR

Against it in Canada, are a number of factors, including an estimated cost of nearly $200,000,000 a year to get it started, a traditional antipathy to the peacetime military, and the feeling that it would take important time out of the lives of young men.

Such an issue, if stirred to life, might also arouse the feelings which led Canada to try to fight a major war without overseas conscription until circumstances forced her into it.

City Council Names Arena Commissioners

Five members were elected to the Memorial Arena Board of Commissioners at a meeting of the City Council today. They were John Baxter, H. B. (Barney) Olson, J. C. Pendray for a two-year term; H. A. Wills and Douglas Fletcher for a one-year term.

$1,000,000 Rain Say B.C. Farmers

VANCOUVER (CP)—Parched fruitlands of the Okanagan Valley were rain-drenched today, bringing renewed hope for good crops after a period of dry weather. Growers called it a "million-dollar rain" with precipitation general during the week-end. For the first time in many days, rain was fairly general over British Columbia, bringing relief to both fruit and grain crops, and vegetable gardens.

No Compulsion To Close Shops, Plants June 9

The proclaiming of June 9 as a public holiday by provincial government order-in-council carries with it no compulsion on commercial or industrial establishments to cease operations in honor of the King's Birthday, James Thomson, deputy Minister of Labor, said today.

Neither do schools nor the provincial government have to grant under the proclamation a holiday. But it is customary for school boards and the provincial government to make June 9 a holiday.

Mr. Thomson said that in commercial and industrial establishments any claims for overtime pay of employees working on June 9 would be governed by collective bargaining agreements, negotiation, custom or understandings.

QUEBEC (CP)—The Quebec agency of the federal Department of Transport reported that a large iceberg, considered dangerous to navigation, is grounded in the Gulf of St. Lawrence.

Cold, Rainy Spring May Mean Disaster To Ontario's Farms

TORONTO (CP)—Something "close to disaster" may happen to Ontario's farm crops from the cold and rainy spring, Ontario Agriculture Minister T. L. Kennedy said today.

Barley and oats from 85 to 90 per cent of Ontario's feed crop and seeding completed is under 50 per cent, he said.

"There will undoubtedly be a great drop in production of everything that requires coarse grain feed. That will mean a great drop in eggs, poultry, bacon and perhaps even meat."

Mr. Kennedy said he expected the fall in bacon production would greatly affect the bacon exports to Great Britain and "knock all our plans into a cocked hat."

Hardest hit is eastern Ontario, with only 5 per cent of seeding completed in Prescott and Russell Counties because of floods. Renfrew has sown only 15 per cent, while Frontenac has 75 per cent.

Incessant rain for 24 hours has created flood conditions in several areas of southern Ontario and anxious residents today watched brimming rivers in many communities.

For the third time this year, 250 families at Long Branch, Toronto suburb, were threatened by the rising waters of Etobicoke Creek. Some families have left their water-surrounded homes and others are preparing to do so.

Britain Swelters In Record Heat

LONDON (CP)—Britain's coldest winter in 50 years has been followed by what promises to be the hottest summer in 90 years for some districts.

When the thermometer hit 87 at suburban Kew Gardens today it was the highest recorded temperature for June 2 since weather observations began there in 1856. In central London the mercury nudged 90.

Excessive heat turned three trainloads of milk sour on their arrival in London, which means that consumers tomorrow will be on half-rations.

Farmers say it will be at least a week before the heat affects crops adversely.

Berries Not Harmed By Morning Rain

Most strawberry growers weren't too worried about the 18 inch of rain which fell early this morning and an official of the provincial department of horticulture said the rain did far more good than harm. "Things were getting pretty dry," he commented.

Rain tends to soften berries which are ready for picking. But since most patches were thoroughly picked over during the week-end, there were few ripe berries left on the plants to be damaged by the rain.

The week-end harvest was thought to be the heaviest so far during the season. The peak period is expected in a week or 10 days.

City Endorses New Plan For Disposal Of Hall

City Council today gave unanimous endorsement to proposals which include leasing of the site of the present City Hall, demolition of the hall building and construction of a $3,000,000 modern hotel, with the city to get $384,000 in advance for taxes, made in a report of Ald. Edward Williams, chairman of the City Hall committee.

Ald. Williams said that negotiations had proceeded for the giving of a lease of the site of the City Hall to a syndicate composed of Alberta and Seattle interests to build a hotel. The site would be leased at a rental of $1 a year for 99 years under the proposals. Proposals would be put to the people at the December election.

He asked that council endorse the committee's proposals and empower the committee to negotiate further upon the terms of payment of some $20,000 which the company would deposit with the city before further negotiations.

PROPOSALS

Here are the proposals:
1. The lessees would form a company to carry out erection of hotel premises and would pay taxes of $80,000 a year for 25 years, with taxes in subsequent years to be paid on the regular assessment.

2. They would build a hotel of 450 rentable rooms at a cost not less than $3,000,000.
3. The company would demolish the present building and have possession of the site 10 weeks after necessary legislation was passed at the spring session in 1948.

4. Company would pay the first five years taxes in advance with the usual 4 per cent allowed on taxes paid in advance.

5. The company would deposit $600,000 in cash or securities, 30 days before the December election.

33 Dead, 15 Missing As Twister Cuts Wide Path Through Arkansas

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP)—With 33 bodies in mortuaries, Jefferson County officials pushed their search today for an additional 15 persons believed to be missing after a tornado which ripped a 20-mile path south of here, injuring hundreds and leaving hundreds more homeless.

Coroner E. D. Dupree, who announced early today that 37 bodies had been recovered, said he still believed that was correct, but that some confusion might have resulted from the shifting of corpses among the various establishments.

A check of the four mortuaries here showed 18 white persons and 15 negroes dead. The majority of the victims tions this year, at which time the by-law would be put to the ratepayers.

6. The company would deposit $20,000 with the city before any further negotiations.

7. The building contract would be submitted to the city solicitor for approval as to form and price. The building would be subject to city building laws.

8. All recommendations would be subject to approval of the B.C. Legislature.

9. The building would be constructed with a superstructure or tower.

10. A request for option to be given for sale of property to the company at the end of 10 years. "I think we have gotten along very well," said Ald. Williams in asking for full discussion by council on the proposals. "There are many details, legal and otherwise, to go into yet."

There would be $600,000 in the bank before the December elections to show that there was money behind the move, he said.

TAXES FOR NEW HALL

"The $384,000 taxes in advance would be used for the erection of a new city hall," said Ald. Williams as he added that the city owned the Duck Block on Broad Street, which could be fitted up as a temporary city hall. "It is a practical solution to obtain a new city hall, without extra expense to the taxpayers," said Ald. B. Gadsden.

Ald. H. M. Diggon asked why the company did not wish to purchase the site rather than lease and asked if by fixing taxation ahead the company did not want an advantage over competitors.

Ald. Williams replied that fixation of taxes was the committee's suggestion. The trend in the United States was toward leasing rather than purchasing of sites for such buildings as hotels, he said.

were children, including members of a negro "teen-age group" attended a meeting in a house where 11 persons were killed. At least 10 white children died.

Searchers began at dawn a careful check of the rain-soaked plantation fields and bayou swamps for additional victims.

The condition of many of the 71 injured at Davis Hospital—the community's only hospital—was critical. Emergency treatment was administered to some 200 persons. Countless others received on-the-spot aid for minor hurts.

Estimating that 500 to 1,000 homes were destroyed, Mayor George Steed of Pine Bluff said it probably would be Tuesday before a recapitulation of the toll would be complete.

Driving rain and a hail storm followed the tornado.

$10,000,000 Credit To Hungary Stopped While Communists Rule

WASHINGTON (AP)—State Secretary Marshall today ordered suspension of an unused half of a $20,000,000 credit to Hungary, where a pro-Communist regime has just been set up with Russian support.

In a statement Marshall also said the United States "wishes every success" for the new non-Communist Italian regime formed by Prime Minister Alcide de Gasperi.

BUDAPEST (AP)—Ferenc Nagy's friends say the Communists have threatened Hungary's erstwhile premier with a treason prosecution to keep him from telling how he came to resign.

They declared that a trial in absentia was in store for Nagy if he violated a reported agreement not to talk with western diplomats about week-end shifts in the Hungarian government.

Pro-western Hungarians have seen a Communist coup, aimed at a police state, in these shifts in which Hungary got a new Premier and a new Foreign Minister, both reputed to be pro-Communist members of Nagy's majority Small Landholders Party.

Nagy, who quit Thursday while on a Switzerland vacation and who has not returned to Hungary, was replaced Saturday by Lajos Dinnyes.

PRESIDENT ZOLTAN TILDY who as President of Hungary accepted Lajos Dinnyes as premier after the ousting of Ferenc Nagy.

The ex-Premier was accused of taking part in a revolutionary conspiracy in purported depositions from Hungarian politicians quoted in all Budapest newspapers Saturday. These supposed depositions were taken by Russian military authorities in Hungary.

Our first shipment of this fine album sold out quickly. Now we have a few more in stock. Not since Ravel's "Bolero" burst on a startled public in 1928 has such an orchestral tour de force as the Gayne Suite appeared. The score abounds in the most exciting rhythms imaginable and reveals a grasp of orchestration little short of phenomenal. This work places the young Soviet-Armenian composer in the front rank of living composers. This set is performed by the New York Philharmonic under Efrem Kurtz, the ballet specialist. SONATAS

For Violin and Harpsichord

The combination of the violin and the harpsichord is seldom heard on records—yet certainly no two instruments offer a better phonographic reproduction. Their use in this album carries out Mozart's exact musical intent, for these are the contemporary instruments for which he originally wrote the sonatas. Alexander Schneider (violin) and Ralph Kirkpatrick (harpsichord) present Mozart's Sonatas in G Major, K. 296; in B-Flat Major, K. 378; and in C Major, K. 379. Columbia Album, Price...$7.00

Bridal Chamber Scene

Helen Traubel, the Metropolitan's leading Wagnerian soprano, ably assisted by a fellow member of the Metropolitan, the fine tenor, Kurt Baum, present the complete Bridal Chamber Scene from Act III of Lohengrin. This is the scene where Elsa asks Lohengrin who he is and whence he came, questions which, when answered, mean that the knight must leave his bride forever. The New York Philharmonic under Artur Rodzinski provide the orchestral support. Columbia Album, Price...$3.00

Lily Pons with Andre Kostelanetz

The diminutive coloratura soprano, Lily Pons, preserves in this album some of the most successful selections from her 1946 European tour. Bureau Conducting Greater Victoria Household Survey

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics started in Greater Victoria and other cities of Canada today the largest sample survey of households ever carried out in Canada. The main aim of this survey is to obtain current estimates of the volume of employment and unemployment from interviews with a random selection of households in a sample or areas in each province.

Greater Victoria is one of the areas included in the sample and a small fraction of the households in Victoria will be interviewed by an official representative of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics in the first three weeks of June. Altogether roughly 50,000 households in about 100 cities or rural areas scattered across Canada will be enumerated.

On the basis of the survey, which is the seventh of its kind, estimates of employment in different industries, weekly hours of work, the regional distribution of unemployment, the number of students and housewives, the number of employed married women and other useful statistical data will be obtained. Special supplementary questions on the frequency and causes of farm accidents and farm fires have been added to the regular questionnaire at the request of the Dominion Department of Agriculture.

The sampling methods of the labor force survey use the most recent developments in statistical theory, in order to achieve both speed and efficiency in sampling operations.

No enumerator exercises any personal choice in the selection of households to be interviewed, since all sample households are designated for interview by completely random methods before the survey begins. All enumerators carry official credentials and any information given to them is strictly confidential.

Evacuated Japanese Lands Probe In B.C. May Be Widened

OTTAWA (CP)—The government apparently will soon have before it a proposal that a royal commission probe into the fate of evacuated Japanese lands in British Columbia be broader than now reported contemplated.

This will develop in the near future as the thorny problem is about ready to move back into the Commons itself after an occasionally heated period in the committee on public accounts.

It is expected to go back with a recommendation that the government appoint a royal commission to investigate dealings in the lands, thus opening up a broader vista than reported planned in a government move to name a commission simply to study Japanese claims, estimated at a potential $5,000,000 by Japanese spokesmen.

Gordon Murchison, director of the Veterans' Land Act which bought 10,000 acres of the lands in the Fraser Valley, told the committee some sales had been made to non-veterans at figured profits of more than 700 per cent of what his costs were.

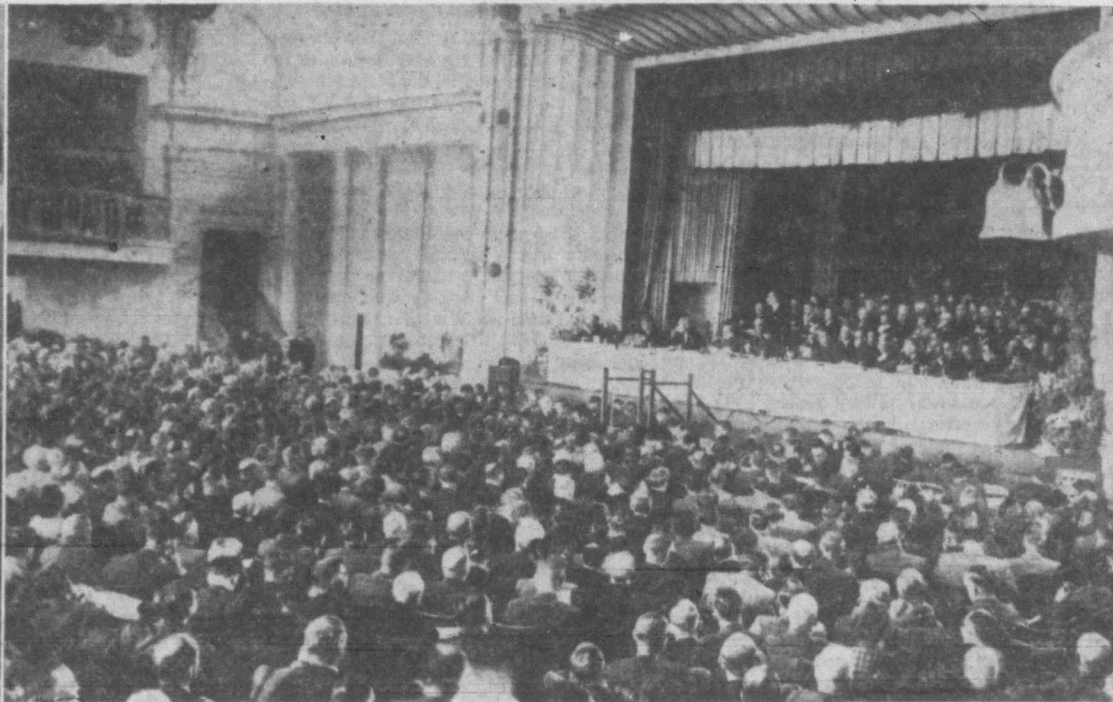

The committee awaits his figures on charges made to veterans which Mr. Murchison has said in a general statement were the same as his costs, plus any improvements. That is the final hurdle before the committee considers the draft of a sub-committee's report for the House. This will embody a recommendation for a commission to study the land deals.

LONDON—Telephone lines damaged by winter snow and flood totaled 200,000. Services now are said to be normal.

Bevin's Foreign Policy Upheld Despite Labor Rebel Criticism

More than 1,200 attended annual conference of Britain's Labor Party at Margate. The conference rejected labor rebels' requests to renounce British support of U.S. aid to Greece and Turkey and for closer co-operation with Russia. Ernest Bevin, left, defied the rebels and their criticism of his policies as Foreign Minister and invited either their support or his rejection as Foreign Minister. He emerged from the debate the victor with an almost unanimous vote.

C.C.F. Head Scores Motive In Bringing Polish Girl Workers

OTTAWA (CP)—M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, charged Saturday that Ludger Dionne was "exploiting misery to make money for himself" in flying 100 Polish girls to Canada to work in a Quebec spinning mill and said he would bring the matter up on the floor of the House of Commons.

Speaking at the closing session of a two-day conference of C.C.F. women from Ontario ridings, Mr. Coldwell said the Liberal member for Beauce had been able to bring the Polish girls to Canada through a "loophole in the Alien Labor Act" and stressed the necessity of standing together as equal citizens of Canada to stop this kind of exploitation.

"There are others going to Europe to get cheap labor," he said without elaboration.

"These (Polish) girls are being charged $300 each for the transportation to Canada. They are being charged for the clothes that were given to them and furthermore, before being accepted, they had to sign a contract in which they pledged not to marry during the next two years," Mr. Coldwell said.

The C.C.F. was not against immigration, he added.

"We must open our doors for as many as we can absorb, but it must be done under a proper, humane and just policy laid down by the Parliament of Canada."

$2,500,000 Losses In French Blaze

TROYES, France (AP)—Fire which started Sunday night in gasoline storage tanks here caused losses estimated at 300,000,000 francs ($2,500,000). Agence France-Presse reported today. Huge warehouse stocks of wool, brandy and wine were destroyed, as well as the gasoline.

Eyres Says B.C. Ready To Absorb Human Tide In Westward Flow

BANFF (CP)—Trade and Industry Minister Leslie H. Eyres of British Columbia said today the next 50 years will be the era of the west and there is opportunity and elbow-room for millions of people.

In an address at the annual convention of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, Mr. Eyres said all that was needed was capital for development and the right kind of people to help in it. "British Columbia is prepared to absorb the human tide in its westward flow."

The target for the future was to provide opportunity of remunerative employment for all and to stabilize and widen markets for domestic products.

British Columbia had the finest softwood stand in the British Empire — 360,000,000,000 board feet of merchantable timber — supplying 47 per cent of Canada's production. Legislation had been enacted to protect and enlarge that valuable crop.

More than 3,000,000 Douglas fir trees had been planted this year in British Columbia. About 20,000,000 Douglas fir and western red cedars would be available for planting in 1948.

The province had a bounteous and varied store of mineral wealth and only a part of the mineral area had been explored. Last year's production amounted to about $70,000,000.

British Columbia's commercial fisheries supplied more than half of Canada's total production, and there still was ample room for development.

FARM DEVELOPMENT

"We are making, and have made, long strides in agricultural development," he said. "We have close to 4,250,000 acres suitable for farming, about 2,000,000 acres suitable to fruit growing."

Full extent of waterpower resources had not been estimated. A series of huge power schemes would introduce electricity into every phase of industrial and domestic life.

There was tremendous room for development in industry, and British Columbia ports were equipped to handle great quantities of raw materials which could be manufactured economically in the province.

British Columbia was a mecca for tourists, last year bringing in $34,000,000.

480 Traffic Dead In U.S. Throughout Holiday Week-end

NEW YORK (AP)—Despite the two worst airplane crashes in the history of North American commercial aviation and two disastrous tornadoes, the United States today looked back on a Memorial-Day week-end in which automobile mishaps again headed the list of violent holiday deaths.

The total of those who died violently was 480, compared with 292 last year.

The total of 214 traffic fatalities was far ahead of the 164 for the same holiday week-end last year, but well under the 275 predicted by the National Safety Council.

The 95 deaths in the two airplane crashes and the 43 known dead in tornadoes in Oklahoma and Arkansas boosted the toll from miscellaneous violent causes, homicides excepted, to 203. Drownings totaled 58.

Difference Of Opinion

LONDON (CP)—A conversation between Princess Elizabeth and Princess Margaret, said to have taken place while they were strolling with their escorts outside a ballroom during their South African tour, was recorded by Mervyn Swaffer in "The People."

Elizabeth: It's getting late. We ought to go back inside.
Margaret: I prefer it out here. You go and look after your Empire. I'll look after myself.

OTTAWA (CP)—Harold S. Hammond, 68, an agricultural chemist at the Dominion experimental farm here until his retirement in 1943 and former professor of chemistry at Macdonald College, Montreal, died Sunday. Robert Hammond of Telkwa, B.C., is a son.

U.S. Decides To Buck Grain Market For Export Wheat

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States government has decided to buck the grain market for future supplies of wheat needed for export rather than try to fix a top price it is willing to pay.

Responsible agriculture department officials said privately today they had decided the only way the government can be sure of getting supplies for needy areas abroad is to pay whatever the market demands.

Hopeful of keeping wheat prices from jumping back to the $3-a-bushel level reached last winter, the government had considered setting a price at which it would buy wheat, on the theory that such an offer would pretty well fix the market price.

This idea finally was rejected because of the urgent needs of many foreign areas between now and their own fall harvests.

The International Emergency Food Council, inter-government agency which divides scarce foods among importing countries, including Canada, took emergency measures to speed supplies abroad.

The government was said to have concluded that if a federal purchase price were set farmers and others obtaining 1947 wheat would simply hold the grain. If so, valuable time would be lost in getting supplies overseas.

TRANSPORTATION FACTOR

The tight transportation situation—which, in Canada's case, sharply retarded shipments to Britain—was said also to have played a part in the government's decision. With a record winter wheat crop in prospect, officials said it will be necessary to start grain moving out of producing areas as soon as possible after it is harvested if the crop is to be made available to those who need it.

If the market movement were delayed a month or so, these officials declared, it might be impossible to get all the grain to market because of the critical shortage of freight cars.

Government buying of wheat from the 1947 crop should get under way in considerable volume within a week or 10 days. The government already has promised to ship several million bushels to occupied Germany in July. This grain must be bought in June.

DEEPER CRIMSON AT BUDAPEST?

SUGGESTIONS ARE COMING FROM
Washington that the United States and Great Britain lodge a joint protest with the authorities at the Kremlin against what is being termed the Soviet Union's "bare-faced grab" of the government of Hungary. Just how much of a practical nature could be achieved by this means is far from clear. But such a procedure would be in conformity with the obligation of the "Big Three" in respect of the carrying out of the armistice agreement with the men in charge at Budapest. Until the plans of the Soviet government for this peppery Balkan state are more clearly defined than they seem to be at present, however, speculation would be foolish. It is scarcely likely that the two western democracies will act precipitately. What is obvious, on the other hand, is that Moscow is using the influence of Soviet military forces in virtual control in Hungary to impress the people with the gospel according to Lenin and to induce the support of their new Prime Minister—the pro-Communist Lajos Dinnyes who succeeded, through the ouster process, Ferenc Nagy. This is the familiar Russian technique; perhaps it is being pushed with some vigor because the Kremlin is fully aware of the fact that democracy as practiced in the western world is almost unknown in the former remains of what the First Great War left of the old Hapsburg empire. But only a trifle more than a year ago the National Assembly at Budapest voted unanimously to declare Hungary a republic; and the preamble of the new constitution is worth noting. It reads:

"On Nov. 13, 1918, the exercise of the royal power had ceased in Hungary. The nation regained her right of self-determination. After a struggle, which lasted 400 years, after the Parliament of Onod, the Debrecen deliberations of 1848, the attempt at two revolutions and the oppression in the wake thereof, the Hungarian people are once more free to decide on their form of government."

"The National Assembly, elected on the basis of universal, equal, direct and secret suffrage, will now in the name and by virtue of the authority vested in it by the Hungarian people, constitute that form of government which best complies with the will and interests of the nation: The Hungarian Republic."

"For its citizens, the Republic assures the natural and inalienable rights of man, for the Hungarian people, organized co-habitation and peaceful co-operation with other people."

The coalition government of Hungary, whose formation followed the general election of November, 1945, was made up of four parties—the Smallholders, Communists, Social Democrats, and the National Peasants—with the leader of the Smallholders, Ferenc Nagy, as Prime Minister. His party elected 242 to the National Assembly; but since the purge of its right wing in April last year, its parliamentary following dropped to 222 out of a total membership of 420, of which, by the way, 11 are appointed. The Smallholder elements are said to be the catch-all for most of the anti-Marxists, and their supporters range from the poorer agrarian class and small peasants to influential industrialists and clericals with legitimist leanings. It is thus considered the backbone of Hungary's anti-Communist support. The other principal parties in the Nagy coalition, on the other hand, were leftish in their political associations.

It now remains to be seen how far the dominant political party will be able to exert its influence for the preservation of the basic provisions of the original constitution—and what effect such protests are mooted by Great Britain and the United States will have on the new regime and on the Kremlin.

THE APPREHENSION WITH WHICH differing political factions awaited today's meeting at which Viscount Mountbatten released the British plan of procedure for transference of governmental power to the Indians themselves can be imagined in the light of severe disturbances which have occurred in recent weeks. Precautions taken to avert, or to quell, expanded rioting will be generally understood. Issues there still are highly inflammable. Tensions have reached a point at which anything might happen.

Immediate political considerations pose problems of extreme gravity. They must be judged, moreover, against the long term effects of a food outlook that is anything but encouraging. Whatever agreement, whatever compromise may be reached between rival factions, whatever procedure may win the support of the majority, the leaders who undertake its implementation face conditions which already foretell famine in the land. A Reuters despatch from New Delhi describes the situation. India's larder, never adequately stocked since 1942, is emptying fast. Only a flood of grain imports within the next few months can stave off a crisis.

India presents an unhappy picture as it moves toward the day of self-government. Superimposed upon the traditional influences of disunity, on the distrust which arises from filletary, on the sharp divisions resulting from different faiths, is the shadow of hunger. They combine to confront the leaders of the subcontinent with Herculean tasks. They must be viewed as background for any consideration of the incidents which arise in the transfer of power, scheduled to be completed in June of next year.

LEADING THE MARCH

FEW, IF ANY, COUNTRIES WHICH participated in the last war on a scale comparable with Canada's effort can congratulate themselves on having maintained their price index at as low a level as ours, and few which imposed wartime price and quota controls have been able to remove them as extensively and as unobtrusively as has this Dominion. It is a matter of national pride that we have been able to achieve decontrol to the degree that we have, while still not unsettling producers and consumers to any extent. We need only contemplate the inflation that has wrecked the currencies of many countries; the rationing and quota systems, intensified even since the war, which afflict the peoples of many other lands; and the soaring prices which have marked the postwar rehabilitation of such a prosperous country as the United States. Whether we realize our good fortune or not, Canada has in large measure escaped these evils.

Today's removal of import subsidies on a small group of commodities is expected to result in slightly higher prices on cotton goods, soap and glove leathers. Such a move, reversing wartime emergency measures, is logical and expected. The people of Canada, all of whom buy cotton goods, soaps and gloves, will be relieved of the burden (through taxes) of subsidizing importers of these goods and ingredients, and will pay the difference in small direct price increases when they make purchases.

This removal of subsidies, like others which have preceded it and others which will follow, was a factor in the recently announced cut in income taxes. It represents another step in the orderly return to peacetime conditions with a minimum of governmental restrictions and control to hamper trade—a return which the present federal government is carrying out with mastery selection and timing.

There are predictions that still further removals are shortly to be announced. These were to be expected sooner or later, and it will be a matter of gratification to all the citizens of this country that Canada, in the front rank of those who converted to war to save our way of life, is also in the front rank of those who are returning, with all the speed that safety permits, to the enjoyment of that way of life.

LOOKING TO THE FUTURE

UNDER PRESENT CONDITIONS, every foot of lumber cut in British Columbia finds a ready market. Mills are operating with little, if any, margin between logs in the pond and the finished product. Possibilities of any disruption in the industry are viewed with alarm owing to the difficulties of meeting current demands. The extreme housing shortage, domestic and foreign, moreover, gives assurance of continued pressure for more and more lumber. How long this situation will prevail can be a matter of conjecture only. Need of materials for physical rehabilitation will continue for some time. Any slackening of domestic demands owing to higher prices will be offset by the orders of importers in foreign countries.

Eventually, however, this situation will be altered. Every new house which is built, every commitment abroad which is met, lessens the emergent calls for products of this province's forests. The time will arrive when concerns supplying lumber will depend on a steady market, when they will be seeking outlets instead of deciding how much of the cut they can allot to certain purchasers who have been driven by circumstances to buy where they can. For this reason the plans laid by the British Columbia government for a business visit of 40 timber trade delegates from Britain next August assumes more significance than might be attributed to it by suppliers who cannot now keep pace with the demands made upon them.

The delegation which Mr. W. A. McAdam, agent-general in London, will lead to this part of the world late in the summer can do much to underwrite the prosperity of the industry here when the immediate boom is over. A firm market in the United Kingdom can mean the difference between continued substantial activity in the indefinite future and a major recession when the present rush to overcome critical shortages is ended. But the visit of overseas buyers will do more than renew contacts between that market and British Columbia producers. It will give the delegation a better understanding of the changing policies being introduced here in relation to forest products. It will acquaint them with the more sober attitude being taken to this source of natural wealth and should give them a clearer appreciation of conditions which will prevail as sustained yield becomes the order of the day in Canada's western forests.

MR. HOOVER'S SEPARATE PEACE

MR. HOOVER TOLD THE U.S. Congress last week that the way to reduce the burden of occupation and to restore productivity in the world is for the United States to make a separate peace with Japan "at once," and a separate peace with the American part of Germany if "Russia and France do not at once respond" to "a last call . . . to comply with the Potsdam agreement."

Mr. Hoover seems, however, to have forgotten that a separate peace with the United States would still leave Japan and Germany at war not only with the Soviet Union but with many other nations, including in the case of Germany all, or at least almost all, her immediate neighbors. Yet Mr. Hoover says also that the U.S. should "absolutely disarm" the Germans and the Japanese, who, though Americans have made a separate peace, will still be at war with their neighbors.

THUS THE HOOVER proposal would leave the United States with the job of keeping all the Japanese and all American zone Germans disarmed, and yet of defending them against their neighbors with whom they will not only still be at war but against whom, by signing a separate peace, the U.S. Germans, and Japanese will have committed an unfriendly act.

It will leave the United States also with the job of maintaining in power the puppet governments with which a separate peace has been made. For if the Hoover plan were put into effect, Germany would have been dismembered. The German "government" which made a separate peace with the U.S. would be the government of the American part of Germany only.

Thus Mr. Hoover who wants to "unify" Germany in order to make it self-supporting would have divided Germany into an American puppet state and a Russian puppet state. This would be like trying to catch smallpox in order to do something drastic about chickenpox. For what Mr. Hoover is suggesting is that the United States should disunite irreparably Germany and Europe and the world because she has not as yet been able to reunite Germany.

MR. HOOVER WAS a member of President Harding's cabinet, and its leading expert on international affairs, when the U.S. made separate peace with Germany after the first world war.

Mr. Hoover is, therefore, familiar with the idea of breaking up a war-time alliance, of withdrawing from international organization, and of making a separate peace with Germany.

He may think that the first experiment with Germany in which he played a leading, indeed the decisive part, was a good precedent. But he must, if he stops to think about it, realize that 1947 is not 1920. The first time he made a separate peace Germany had a recognized government and was already at peace with all enemies. It was, therefore, possible, though it proved to be most fearfully unwise, for the United States to make a separate peace.

BUT TODAY THERE is no recognized German government, and none can be created except by consent of all the occupying powers. No part of Germany has made peace with any of its enemies. To propose a separate peace with a non-existent German government in a part of Germany is, therefore, not merely to repeat the disastrous error of 1920 but to compound it indefinitely.

It would be an act not of withdrawal into isolation, as in 1920, but instead a most highly provocative act of defiance and disruption. For it would not merely break up the war-time alliance which underlies the United Nations but would create a new alliance. This new alliance would be an expensive luxury. For the Hoover alliance would consist of the United States, the disarmed puppet government of Japan, the disarmed puppet government of a part of Germany, and such other states as were too weak not to be dragged into the U.S. into following along.

MR. HOOVER SEEMS to think he could drag Britain and France into this new combination. I wonder if he looked into that before he announced his plan, or whether he just took it for granted that London and Paris would follow him in this adventure.

If he looked into it, I think he would have had to conclude that Britain and France could be dragged, if at all, only after an internal struggle which would certainly weaken them greatly if it did not tear them apart. At the end of the struggle, they might follow Mr. Hoover's lead. But then they would be able to add not strength but only weakness to this new alliance.

Yet perhaps a certain good may come of Mr. Hoover's having raised the question of a separate peace. For it should strengthen the conviction in the State Department and elsewhere that the formation of a constructive policy of European union cannot be delayed much longer, if ideas which would be fatal to peace and subversive of the whole effort of the United Nations are not to gain ground among Americans, who ought by this time to know better.

Another Spring, Another Visit

Unity For Survival

"FIRST of all comes survival." The Canadian from Burma spoke with feeling. "You don't deal too deeply in abstracts when the enemy is right beside you, when being physically over-run is a matter of immediate concern to you and your friends."

But the man from Burma was not limiting his comment to personal safety. He expanded it to take in the freedoms he cherished, the well-being of his family and friends, the theory of democracy to which he adhered.

STRENGTH IS THERE

"You must have strength. We have had it in the British Commonwealth during two wars. Wars mean one of two things, victory or defeat. In defeat you lose these freedoms, these things that are dear to you and that are important to the world."

"And we had strength in India and, to a degree, in Burma. Have you stopped to think what would have happened had it not been for India? For the block they put in the way of the Japanese, for the manpower they sent to North Africa, the Middle East? Have you considered the origin of their loyalty? They were almost ready to fight South Africa on the issue which arose relative to Indians living in that southern Dominion. They were held in check by the bond which bound them to Commonwealth defence. But imagine the picture if the Japanese had gone into India, over-run it physically."

FREEDOM UNDER CONTROL

"What bred this loyalty? Well, it was once customary to run down the imperialism of Britain, to emphasize the exploitation there. History gives you an inkling. In the old days of colonization Britain went out and took great land areas. It wasn't a pretty time. The big powers moved in and took what they wanted—all of them. Cruelty meant little. Few criticized the jungle law. But once established, the inherent traditions of Britain—and that meant England largely in those days—began to assert themselves. The freedoms that stemmed from Magna Charta, that had been extended in the fight for liberties, began to impress the colonizing powers. From them, the native peoples gained a conception of this idea. Sir Stamford Raffles started it in Java—a sort of development of evolving freedom for the native peoples under a colonial control. The Dutch had to accept it when they regained possession of the island. It may be the source of the present will to self-government and dominion status there."

FRIENDS IN NEED

"The same thing applies in India and Burma in varying degree. It was stated during the war that 10 per cent of the Burmese were for us, 10 per cent against us and the other 80 per cent neutral. And that in face of a terrific barrage of Japanese propaganda aimed at making native races protagonists of the 'Asia for the Asiatics' movement. I'd say that was a fair assessment of the division. The majority were not against us although little effort had been made to popularize the Commonwealth cause. You appreciate these things when you are slipping away from an enemy who is almost breathing down your neck with superior forces, and friendliness of people in the region means the difference between life and death."

COMFORTING

"Take a look at the globe some time. See how comfortable it is to have geographic friends. And remember what India has meant in two wars—the difference between victory and defeat. It will be a great day for the world when the threat of war is removed. Until it is, let us have strength. It lies there, in the Commonwealth, in India, in Burma, Australia, South Africa. But how many of us appreciate what that partnership means? How many feel a bond of kinship with these distant members of the family? Would it not be practical, just plain common sense, to recognize this kinship a little more. And if we are in a position to help those who need it, would it not be advisable to help Burma, which was physically over-run by the Japanese?"

The man from Burma, who is a geologist and who has known the people, has watched their evolution to a position where they have an inkling of the meaning of democracy—who appreciates the problems they yet have to face in maturing this concept—spreads his hands. "After all, members of a family do look after each other, don't they? And when some measure of solitude means strengthening the fibres of mutual protection, isn't it sensible to try to strengthen them? Survival, don't forget, comes first."

Farmers Ready To Spend More?

Monthly Business Letter

With farm income in Canada at a record high level, and farmers short of implements, fencing, fertilizers and other necessities, rural purchasing through the remainder of this year is expected to be large. If purchasing proves to be as large as is now expected, it will be felt throughout the whole Canadian economy, with all forms of business benefiting.

Not since 1930 have Canadian farmers been able to purchase all that they needed. Business was curtailed first by the depression in the early 30's, then by a drought, and finally by the war. Conditions are now so favorable, however, that farmers appear to be in a position to fill requirements of the last several years.

RAIN CONTROL

NEA Service

It is reported that Soviet scientists, who have had pretty good luck in persuading clouds to produce rain, are now working on a scheme for making it stop raining. The idea, says a Russian newspaper, "is approaching reality."

Well, maybe the elements are going to be removed from the Farmers are particularly likely to buy now because they are aware of the fact that their present level of income is of a temporary nature; they remember the boom before the depression of 1921, although the situation today appears to be less threatening. They expect a slump in income despite the fact that prices in the current inflationary movement have not risen as rapidly or as high as they did in 1920 when they climbed to a level 150 per cent above the level prevailing before World War I. Present prices are estimated at 65 per cent above the level in 1939, prior to the outbreak of World War 2.

LAND VALUES

Furthermore, the value of farm land has shown less inflation than after World War 1 when prices advanced from $35 an acre in 1914 to $48 in 1920. In the current movement, the price of farm land has risen to only $32 an acre from $25 before the war. Farm land at the present time is also more securely held, since farmers have paid for it more largely with cash rather than with mortgage money which, in 1920, carried an interest rate of 10 to 12 per cent.

During World War 2, the farmers were prevented by shortages from spending more than a limited amount of their income for tools and other necessities, and consequently they accumulated a considerable amount of cash which they now can use in satisfying their pent-up demand.

MONDAY HOLIDAYS

Montreal Star
The observance of certain national holidays on Mondays has a double advantage. Not only will it extend the week-end by an additional day but it will put an end to the dislocation and inconvenience which always occurs when a one-day holiday comes on a week-day. The change has everything to commend it and we hope it will be made as soon as possible.

TEMPERANCE PLAN

Ottawa Citizen
To diminish intemperance among the Canadian people there should be not only nationalization of the manufacture, importation, distribution and sale of all kinds of alcoholic beverages, but also prohibition of all forms of liquor advertising. Then, side by side with these, must be an educational campaign to enlighten the youth of Canada about the dangers of even moderate drinking. Hospitals for the care and treatment of alcoholics formed the fourth item in the plan.

'DELIBERATE PIRACY'

Canada—West Indies
By a judgment of Federal Judge Byers in New York in which he denounced as "deliberate piracy," the act of Morey Amsterdam, American entertainer, in claiming authorship of the calypso "Rum and Coca Cola," justice has been done to the original Trinidadian composer and his associates.

The court has ordered an accounting of the profits derived by Amsterdam and other defendants from violation of the copyright law and has issued a restraining order against the defendants to stop further infringement.

COCKTAIL COMPETITION

W. A. S. Hardy in London Calling
In these sophisticated times, there is scarcely a trade or profession which does not possess its own association, union, or guild. I should quite expect to hear that executioners have a body of their own—which is possibly just the word for it!

But I was frankly a little surprised to hear that so loosely integrated and cosmopolitan a fraternity as the mixers and shakers of cocktails had their own organization—"The Bartenders' Guild"—which, until the outbreak of war, held an annual cocktail competition, and a few days ago revived this custom for the first time since 1937.

TURN ABOUT

Merchandising News
Summer 1947 is to be the critical testing time when leg paint will vie with sheer hosiery for milady's leg-covering favor, says Drug Merchandising. This will be the first summer when "worn leg paint" will have had to meet any real competition from stockings.

"A few years ago when nylons were newly departed and leg paint startling and eyed with suspicion, one of the big jobs was to convince women that they could paint their legs to look like stockings," remembers the drugists' trade paper. "Now the hosiery counter sales girls are explaining that the new seamless nylons look just like leg paint."

Passing On Present

The Times of London
There can be felled who have not at some time dabbled with or even yielded to the temptation of parting with a present, particularly a wedding present, either to another couple about to be married or—oh! the shame of it!—to a mere shop for sordid pelf. It was ungrateful, of course, but space was precious, and they had raked their mental depths in vain for a suitable offering, and he would never know now; and so they did the black deed and thought no more about it. There are stories of such transferred presents returning to the original donors after many days. They are probably apocryphal, but now and again there really does happen something to prick the conscience, and those who next month attend the Antique Dealers' Fair will see an example. There will be exhibited a silver snuffer pan dated 1737 bearing the arms of Clare College, Cambridge, and those of Martin Folkes, who gave it to his college, together with two candlesticks. And the dreadful part of the story is this, that in 1859 the Master and Fellows handed over this treasure to a local silversmith in exchange for a fish-ale.

The moral seems to be clear: If we give away our presents we must take care that they bear no inscriptions, lest we stand convicted before posterity.

"Father of electricity" unwelcome

Benjamin Franklin was prepared to change Canadian currency in 1776, when he visited Montreal. He brought with him a large sum of Continental money, printed in Philadelphia; but his venture failed because Canadians were suspicious of paper currency. They preferred the Spanish silver dollar and copper pennies.

Franklin, nevertheless, was a shrewd man. He once said: "A man may, if he knows not how to save as he gets, keep his nose to the grindstone." In other words, the price of financial independence is planned saving.

Kearsey, Famous Breeder Of Springers, Recommends Gro-Pup

Mr. J. H. Kearsey, Proprietor of the Westmount Kennels, Langford, Vancouver Island, B.C., says: "I have been a dog breeder for 25 years both in England and Canada, and I have tried a great many commercial feeds because I know how important feeding is. Since I changed to Gro-Pup two years ago, I have found the one that meets all demands. Our Springers not only enjoy their meals of Gro-Pup, but thrive on them. Our show prizes prove that. So to any one looking for a good, well-balanced dog food, I say 'switch to Gro-Pup'."

Why breeders feed Gro-Pup
Breeders know it is not safe to try to raise dogs on "table scraps" alone. Dogs must have a properly balanced diet that gives them everything they need for strong bones, sound teeth, and a beautiful coat. That's why breeders feed Gro-Pup.

A properly balanced diet
Gro-Pup is a properly balanced diet to keep dogs of all ages, sizes, and breeds at their natural best. It is easily digestible. It contains every vitamin and mineral dogs are known to need for sturdy growth and vigour—and it saves you money.

Feed your dog as famous kennels do..

Cut Public Debt Before Taxes, Say Most U.S. Voters

By AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF PUBLIC OPINION

PRINCETON, N.J.—Debate in the U.S. Senate on tax reduction has resolved around the question: which is more important, to reduce the heavy tax burden or to cut down some of our colossal national debt?

If the question reduces itself to a choice between the two, the majority of Americans would rather see debt reduction take precedence over tax cutting.

The issue was presented to the votes in an Institute survey, coast-to-coast, on the following:

"The United States today has $1,000,000,000 surplus in its running expenses. Should this money be used to reduce income taxes, or should it be used to reduce the national debt?"

The vote: Cut taxes 38 per cent, reduce debt 53 per cent, no opinion 9 per cent.

Of course, the group willing to see the present income tax rates remain unchanged includes some citizens who are not income tax payers.

But also included are many who do not have to pay substantial taxes. Something like three-fourths of all employed persons are income taxpayers. Among business and professional people polled—a high tax paying group—three-fifths favored debt reduction rather than tax reduction.

The poll supports the conclusion that American voters are not as ready as many critics of democracy have supposed to take all they can from the government and give as little in return as possible.

FULL MOON LOOKS VERY MUCH LIKE PEELED ORANGE

The first time I studied the full moon through a strong telescope, it looked to me like a peeled orange. This idea has come to my mind several times since then, while I was looking at the great satellite of the earth.

Radiating from a central spot are straight, light-colored lines which look very much like the lines spreading out from either end of a peeled orange.

The moon is far from being an orange! It has a diameter of 2,160 miles, which is a little more than one-fourth of the diameter of the earth.

On the moon are mountains. Some of these are low, others high. The mountains in one range are known as the Apennines, and have the same name as the mountains which form the "backbone" of Italy.

The moon's Apennines form a curving range with a length of 450 miles. There are more than 3,000 peaks in this range. The tallest of them is known as Mount Huygens, and has a height of 21,000 feet. Mount Huygens is far taller than Pike's Peak, Long's Peak or Mount Whitney in the United States.

Other mountains on the moon include the Alps and the Caucasus ranges. Like the Apennines, these were named after mountains on the earth.

The Leibnitz and Doerfel mountains are other great ranges, and they have the tallest peaks which are known to exist on the moon. The height of one Doerfel peak has been estimated at 26,690 feet. If this estimate is correct, this peak is only half a mile lower than Mount Everest, the tallest peak on earth.

The mountains of the moon have sharp outlines. Without rain to work on their sides, they keep their jagged shapes as the thousands of years go by.

Besides mountain ranges, the moon has many "craters." Of these we shall speak later this week.

America's Growing Stake In Eastern Mediterranean

By ROBERT N. COOL

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The commander of the British Mediterranean squadron used to be a seaborne potentate whose authority, stemming from London, out-matched the real power of any of a dozen monarchs along the shores of the inland sea.

"Showing the flag," to remind Greeks, Turks and Arabs who was really boss, fulfilled the main duties of the Royal Navy for more than a century after Nelson's victory at Trafalgar in 1805.

Twice Germany attempted to take over this shadowy domination of the Greek and Moslem world, but in 1918 and again in 1945 she was defeated. Periodically, also, Russian aspirations for a grip on the eastern Mediterranean had to be thrust back by Britain and her allies.

Since World War II, however, a change has been in progress. Like that of ancient Rome, Great Britain's sway over "mare nostrum" has become weakened. A new power, not an enemy, emerges in the role of at least a co-protector of the levantine states.

DOLLAR SIGN

That power, of course, is the United States—and the dollar sign appears to be supplementing the Union Jack in an ancient crossroads of power and conflict.

Since the war, the U.S. flag has been shown impressively and often from Piraeus to Istanbul.

Recently British sources in London were quoted as stating that Britain was getting ready to hand military responsibility in the Mediterranean and Middle East to the United States. Though Secretary of State George C. Marshall publicly discounted such an idea, the growing activities of the United States stand in sharp contrast to British moves shedding an old financial burden and withdrawing to new African bases far to the southward.

Last March, when asking Congress for the $400,000,000 loan to Greece and Turkey which was to help preserve the status quo in those countries against possible Communist assaults, President Truman alluded to British economic difficulties. Formerly England acted as the upholder of regimes in both Greece and Turkey, as well as elsewhere in the Middle East. Her funds and guidance were aimed at "containing" Russian long before the Communists came into power beyond the Bosphorus.

U.S. MISSIONS

Now American missions have reached the two Mediterranean countries to arrange for using the U.S. subsidy, destined largely for the same purposes.

About the time President Truman signed Congress' loan bill, the ruling British Labor Party issued a brochure on foreign policy which suggested that Russia aimed to eliminate Britain from the Middle East. It went on to assert that "the United States is about to take the weight of Russian expansion off British shoulders."

PLAYS ACTIVE ROLE

Though the "Truman Doctrine" was an unexpectedly dramatic statement of America's new attitude toward shores formerly regarded as too distant to matter here, the United States became committed to an active role even before the war had ended. Shrinking U.S. oil reserves inevitably directed American attention to the world's richest petroleum resources—in Iran, Iraq, Saudi Arabia and environs.

Substantial concessions were secured by American companies, particularly in Saudi Arabia, and our stake in the Middle East oil pool became as great as that of Britain; with France and the Netherlands lesser partners in one of the big deals of the century. An indication of the stakes involved has been given at a world conference on mineral resources, where it was stated that Iran's oil resources are so great that 24 wells there are producing as much as 2,400 wells in the east Texas fields, the world's largest producer.

ADOPT SAME STAND

Only over Palestine have Washington and London appeared to disagree in their new Mediterranean collaboration. The administration clashed with British Foreign Secretary Bevin over restrictions on Jewish immigration into the Holy Land, but when the question came before the United Nations the two big English-speaking powers adopted approximately the same stand, while Russia urged a study of possible Palestine independence. This suggestion was turned down.

As the British move over in the Middle East bed, they are setting up a military base in Kenya colony to replace the air and naval bases in Egypt which have been the keystone of their power thereabouts. One implication seems to be that aircraft carriers, perhaps American, can control the Mediterranean Sea, while Britain defends her "lifeline" from positions south of the Suez Canal.

May 24 Association Congratulated

Many letters of congratulation have been received by the Greater Victoria May 24 Celebrations Association. The letters come from citizens and visitors.

Among the many is one from Ben H. Hazen, president of the 1947 Portland Rose Festival Association. In part Mr. Hazen says: "Your celebrations have added another strong link to the chain of friendship between Victoria and Portland. We are now preparing to forge another one which we hope will be equally effective, and are looking forward to the part Victorians will play in our Portland Rose Festival."

Another letter of appreciation to the association has been received from Irving Erickson, prime minister of the Royal Rosarians.

Chimney Sweep Saves Cat Up Tree 3 Days

The Victoria S.P.C.A. received a call that a cat was up a tree at 600 Gorge Road East. Residents had heard the cat crying for three days but had been unable to find it, and only when the high wind blew the foliage apart was the cat seen up a 40-foot tree.

The inspector secured the services of a chimney-sweep who climbed as high as possible into the tree. As the tree was too thin where the cat was, he sawed the top through which allowed the cat to fall over into the other branches from where it was rescued. After being in such a cramped position for three days, the cat was unable to walk and was treated by S.P.C.A. This cat is a young male tabby and evidently belongs in the district of 600 Gorge Road East.

Lunningham-Prentice Rites Of Interest Here And Toronto

Principals in a wedding Saturday occasioning much interest both in this city and in Toronto, were Miss Florence Margaret "Rugie" Prentice and Edward Charles Cunningham previously of Toronto.

Miss Prentice is a member of a well-known Victoria family, being the daughter of Oliver M. Prentice, 2013 Oak Bay Avenue, and the late Mrs. Prentice. The groom, who was a pilot officer in the R.C.A.F., is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Cunningham, Toronto, Ont.

Church of Our Lord was decked with baskets of pink and white peonies for the ceremony performed by Rev. D. L. Gordon. Sidney Chiverrall was the soloist and Phil Hughes presided at the organ.

White floral lace over whisper taffeta fashionably draped into a bustle effect at the back and styled with low rounded neckline and lily point sleeves formed the bridal gown, with which the bride chose a finger tip veil arranged beneath a coronet of white blossoms. Given in marriage by her father, she carried a bouquet of red roses, gardenias and lily of the valley.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Arthur Jukes wearing a period frock of rose taffeta. Mrs. Norman Clarke also attending the bride, chose ice blue satin. Coronets of roses and lily of the valley were worn by both attendants, who carried Colonial bouquets in theme with their gowns.

Groomsman was Arthur Jukes, and ushering were Norman Clarke and Jack Wilson. Sidney Chiverrall proposed the toast to the bride's future happiness at a reception held in the Duke of Kent Room, Express Hotel. Mrs. W. P. Gill, Collingswood, New Jersey, aunt of the bride, and Mr. Prentice, received guests with the newlyweds.

Honeymoon plans of Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham include a motor trip from Vancouver through United States to Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, and Seattle, following which they will return to Victoria to take up residence.

A frock of grey silk crepe with peplum, black gabardine coat, and flower trimmed hat and gardenia corsage bouquet was chosen by the bride for her traveling costume.

Engagement Announced On Week-end

Miss Elda Doreen McDougall, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. R. H. McDougall, 1074 Oliver Street, whose marriage to Mr. E. J. Among those present for the service were maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Anderson, and paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Shea.

In compliment to Miss Beryl Barker, a bride-elect of June, a miscellaneous shower was held recently at the home of Miss Joy Davies, 1462 Walnut Street. American Visitors Empress Hotel Dance

Two hundred and seventy guests attended the supper dance at the Empress Hotel Saturday night. It was the largest crowd that has enjoyed dancing to the sparkling music of Billy Tickle's nine-piece orchestra this season and it included many Americans who were visiting the city over the Memorial Day holiday.

There were several big parties with the honors going to Mr. and Mrs. E. Queale, who were celebrating their first wedding anniversary. Thirty-two guests were at their table. A double wedding party was that of Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Fox, who were celebrating their first anniversary with Mr. and Mrs. M. Preston, just two years married. In their party were Mr. and Mrs. D. McDonald and Mr. and Mrs. F. Ritchie.

Members of the Angus-Beard wedding party, which took place during the afternoon, were also in attendance, including Miss Catherine Angus, Miss Shirley Wallace, Miss Sheila Williams, Charles Fleming, Angus Kenning and Athol Sutherland-Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Raey Masters were among the dancers. It was Mrs. Masters' birthday. Kenneth Willis was celebrating his birthday. He had with him, his wife, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Willis, Miss Eileen Willis, Miss Dorothy Willis, David A. Wilson and Lieut. Warren Greatrex, R.C.N., of Montreal. Gordon Fields had a party of 10, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sommers, eight guests. Flt. Lt. H. Norman, D. A. Williams, W. T. Glass, H. K. McDonald, H. Pickel and A. Pottage, also had parties.

Others noticed on the dance floor were Mr. and Mrs. Ian Horne, Mr. and Mrs. Alan Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Chet Harrington, Miss Rita Corcoran, Miss Peggy Ready, Bill Rourke, Denny Crockett, Bill Glass, F. E. Proctor, A. P. Wilson, D. McKinnon, P. C. Trump, G. Smyrl, J. D. Hazlette, A. Hughes, Clifford Sluggett and A. Erickson.

All-White Motif Enhances Wedding

All-white church decorations provided by baskets of carnations, stocks and gladioli and tuff candles added beauty to the nuptial rites at twilight in St. John's Church Friday when Miss Elizabeth Claudia McKay "Betty" Cantel exchanged vows with Stanley Cyril Newell, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Newell, Portland, Oregon.

Rev. George Biddle officiated and F. Chubb played wedding music. Miss Donna McCabe was soloist. The daughter of Mrs. James B. Reid, Quebec Street, and the late Capt. D. B. M. Cantel, chose traditional satin fashioned with net yoke worked with embossed roses outlined in seed pearls, fitted bodice and full skirt. Her full-length veil was held with orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of red roses. As her only jewelry the bride, given in marriage by her stepfather, J. B. Reid, wore the groom's gift, a single strand of pearls.

Whispering taffeta gowns were worn by attendants, Miss Louise Young, maid of honor in a rose gown with bouffant skirt, and Misses Shirley Young and Ann Gillis in identical gowns of powder blue fashioned with ruffled necklines and tiered skirts. All carried loose Colonial bouquets, and wore fresh-flower bandeaux.

Groomsman was Trevor Barlow, Mickey Newell, brother of the groom, and Gilbert Oliver were ushers.

Duke of Kent Room at the Empress Hotel was the scene of the reception, where Mrs. Reid and Mrs. Newell assisted in welcoming guests. F. J. Merriman proposed the bridal toast. The three-tier wedding cake was flanked by lighted white candles and summer flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. Newell are honeymooning in Vancouver and will travel by plane to Portland where they will make their home. For traveling the bride chose a light grey suit, blue gabardine topcoat, navy accessories and corsage bouquet of gardenias and Tailsman roses.

SPINACH YIELDS NEW VITAMIN

A new and important vitamin, namely, "follic acid," has been developed from spinach by the University of Texas scientists. When purified the acid will prove valuable to medicine for a fundamental part in the life processes of plants, animals and human beings.

HISTORIC MEDICAL HIGHLIGHTS No. 5

HOOKE'S MICROSCOPE

It was in the 17th century that the unseen world first was seen. Several men, experimenting with magnifying devices, inquired into the nature of things not visible to the eye. Englishman Robert Hooke discovered in 1665 that matter was made up of tiny cells, using a microscope similar to that illustrated. Independently, Dutchman Anthony van Leeuwenhoek, in 1674 studied and made notes of tiny living organisms found in water. These original microscopes marked the beginning of a means of scientific study that was to lead to great conquests of disease.

There's an "unseen world" today which concerns you. That is the service you should get only from your pharmacist. Remember that the filling of your drug store and prescription needs is a professional job... whose value is measurable by you only in terms of the reputation of the store you select.

MATRIMONIAL BILLS AND ILLS

* Dear Miss Dix—I have a son 21 years old. He has no permanent job and not a penny saved, yet he is thinking of getting married. Won't you publish a list of the expenses a man must meet, as he has no idea of what it costs to support a family?

A MOTHER.
Answer: I should have to monopolize all of the space in this paper if I printed even a partial list of the bills that a married man must meet. I should have to tell of butcher bills, grocery bills, milk bills, light bills, fuel bills, rent bills, bills for clothing, medicine, cosmetics, shoes, stockings, lingerie—oh, what's the use? Nobody can know how many bills and ills there are in matrimony until they try it, and then it is too late.

Boys and girls do not realize what it costs merely to exist in these days, and when they try to figure out a budget on which they can live after they are married, they assume that they are always going to be healthy and have no doctor's bills, and that they will be able to live upon the minimum amount; whereas they find out that they have unexpected sickness and that everything costs twice as much as they thought it would.

WARNINGS IGNORED

However, it is no use in shrieking warnings to the young who are in love. They will go on believing that two can live as cheaply as one, and when they find out that they are just as hungry after marriage as they were before marriage and that it costs much more for a married couple to live on than it does a single person, a certain percentage of them will draw in their hunger belt a little tighter and fight their way through, and the balance will go on the rocks.

But, oh, the misery, it would prevent, the broken hearts and the years of struggle it would save, if only young people would wait to marry until they have the price and could afford it.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I am so lonely and am very anxious to adopt a baby boy. Will you please tell me where to go and what to do? If I do, shall I tell the child it is adopted, or bring him up to believe that he is my own?

MRS. H. D.
Answer: I think that there is no other thing in the world that is so fine and noble as for the woman who has a mother's heart, but empty arms, to adopt a baby and bring it up as her own. It changes a whole life. It is a miracle that gives back to a child the thing that a mother and father, a home, a name, a place in the sun, love and tenderness.

METHODS VARY
As for the method of getting a baby to adopt, that varies in different cities. Most cities have child-finding societies who give out children for adoption. Very often physicians find homes for unwanted children. I am sure you will have no trouble getting in touch with the right people.

Tell the child when it is old enough to understand that it is an adopted baby. That will keep him from ever feeling that there is any stigma in it.

Dear Dorothy Dix: My husband gets great pleasure in calling people's attention to their faults and shortcomings. He constantly criticizes their personal much too young to really love a boy.

TEEN-AGER
Answer—If you feel that you must answer the boy's question, tell him flatly that you are not in love with him nor any other boy, and that you are not going to think about being in love until you are grown up. Don't ever write any boy that you are in love with him until you are engaged to him, because boys show letters around to prove what wolves they are and that puts girls in a very embarrassing position.

DESPERATE WIFE.
Answer: Your husband is afflicted with the curious form of egotism that is the result of an inferiority complex. In his soul he knows that he is a poor, miserable creature who lacks breeding, good manners, personal attractiveness, and he tries to build himself up by pulling other people down. No man who has any kindness of heart or regard for others goes about deliberately hurting their feelings. He lacks even common sense, or he would know that the man who makes enemies instead of friends never succeeds in his undertakings.

There is nothing that one can do to change him, but his wife rates a vote of sympathy.

Dear Miss Dix—My boy friend lives in another province. He writes me nice letters except in places they are mushy. In all of his recent letters he asks me if I love him. What should I write back to him? Should I ignore the question and the other lovey-dovey questions? I am only 14.

Mobile Blood Unit Here Again Tuesday

The Red Cross mobile blood transfusion unit will be in the city next Wednesday and will again operate at the Britannia Branch headquarters, Cormorant and Blanshard Streets.

The clinic will work two shifts: From 1.30 to 4.30 and from 7.30 to 9.30. It is planned that 300 donors attend the clinic during these hours. The net blood collection will be about 250 pints.

The Red Cross is continuing to call for more blood donors for future visits of the clinic. Any person between the age of 18 and 65 may register as a donor. Each volunteer will be given a medical check-up before any blood is taken. Registration forms can be obtained at any drug store, from any high school student or at the Red Cross headquarters, 602 Broughton Street.

The clinic will come to this city once every month and as donors are not expected to donate more than twice a year it is necessary to have a long list of volunteers to call upon.

Third Victoria—Derek Naylor, an ex-Scout from Kent, Eng., was welcomed into the troop at the regular meeting. Instruction was given in tenderfoot and first-class first aid.

Tall Tales When Helicopter Fans Meet

No gag, but a practical use for helicopters is pictured here. Magnetic device, like a mine detector, was installed in the plastic "teardrop" ahead of this helicopter's cabin. It was used by Lundberg-Ryan Air Explorations, Inc., to detect ore deposits in South and Central America.

Igor Sikorsky making first official helicopter flight in Western Hemisphere, Stratford, Conn., April 15, 1911. His earliest model went up, down, sideways and backward—but forward flight remained a puzzle for a long time.

Members of the American Helicopter Society met in Washington, D.C., with other leading helicopter experts and enjoyed a fanning bee that produced some weird ideas on new uses for the "wind-mill" planes. A couple are sketched above. But there were also tales of really practical uses, and reminiscences by pioneer inventor Igor Sikorsky on how he created "heel-e-co-peter" history.

SUNNYBROOK N.S. (CP)—A treasure trove search by bulldozer is, scarring long ditches in this south shore village where pirate Captain Kidd is supposed to have watered and overhauled during a lull in his swashbuckling Spanish Main activities many years of "thinking about it." John Faulkenham hired a bulldozer a few days ago, got permission from the residents of the hilly lake district which borders the sea and started excavation.

LEADS TO LAKE

The latest search for the long-sought pirate cache is being led by 11-year-old Jeff Faulkenham, whose only clue is a rock-walled drain which his father struck with a pick 70 years ago while serving with a railway gang. Father told son and after

LEADS TO LAKE

Today, the native Nova Scotian who normally is engaged in the lumber business in Andover, Maine, reported he had located a section of the drain which appears to climb a pine-tree studded hill to a lake. His theory is that the drain leads to a cave and the treasure. Faulkenham thinks the old drain was built to ensure the treasure, which he believes contains perishable riches, would be kept reasonably dry.

Both Captain Henry Morgan and Captain Kidd are believed to have made brief stays at various times in this Mahone Bay area 45 miles southwest of Halifax where hidden coves, a screen of hundreds of islands and deep water made conditions ideal for hiding booty-laden barquentine from the vigilant eye of His Majesty's Fleet. The story is that they used to dodge into one of the many island-screened coves, screen the ships for scraping, make on fresh water and game—and, Faulkenham hopes—bury an odd chest of treasure.

This is Faulkenham's second attempt to locate the loot.

Two years ago he tried to find it by digging with pickaxe and shovel. But he was forced to return to the United States before he found a clue. This time the bulldozer was successful in uncovering the wall of the drain.

DOES MORE WORK

"The bulldozer may cost me more, but I'm getting more work done," the mustached treasure-hunter said in an interview.

"The wall is very old. Sections have fallen in and in other parts the soil has filtered through the rock, indicating the wall has been there a long time.

"There is only one explanation—it was used to connect a cave with the lake.

"I've got my mind set. I'm going to continue until I find the cave and what I'm looking for."

2 Prairie Men Hold Tickets On Young Affran

WINNIPEG (CP) — John Wusyk was washing windows at a Winnipeg railway station Saturday when fellow workmen shouted that he was a winner in the first drawing in the Irish sweepstake, was certain of roughly $1,200 and might receive $100,000 if Young Affran, entrant in the Epsom Derby to be run June 7, comes in first.

Wusyk, veteran of the Queen's Own Cameron Highlanders, holds ticket 46621 under the pseudonym "Jerk."

"I've a little money saved up and with my good fortune I'm going to build a house," he said. "They're a lot of things I'd like to buy, but I think a house is the thing."

He had never bought a sweepstake ticket until he borrowed the money from a friend about a month ago with which to try his luck.

If Young Affran places, Wusyk may get $40,000 or $20,000 if the horse finishes third.

EDMONTON (CP) — Alvin D. McLennan, Edmonton garage operator, disclosed today he is the holder of a ticket on a horse in the Irish Sweepstake on the Epsom Derby to be run June 7.

McLennan said his horse is Young Affran and that even if the horse doesn't win the ticket will be worth $1,200. His name de plume was "Some Chick."

NEW TAXICABS

TORONTO (CP) — The winner of the Derby at Epsom Downs June 7 may bring Toronto a new fleet of taxicabs.

Ten war veterans, partners in a taxi company, share a ticket which drew the horse Night Maharatta in the sweepstake race. The ticket carried the pseudonym "Bullock."

"If we win a sizeable sum, we will expand our business," said Lou Pollock, one of the group. "Funny thing, I couldn't sell my book of tickets to the boys and I bought the whole works."

Pollock won $4,500 in 1939 on a sweepstake ticket shortly after he had gone overseas with Toronto's 48th Highlanders.

SHARE TICKET

CALGARY (CP) — Five Calgary men who each have a share in a ticket which was drawn in the Irish Hospitals Sweepstake will be watching for news of the horse Combat when the Epsom Derby is run June 7.

The ticket BD4327Q is held in the name of John B. Hamilton, a baker at a grocery store, but those who also have a share are three fellow workers of Mr. Hamilton, Joe Weir, Paul Kius and Bruno Schilchding, and his son, Jack, a warehouseman.

Quality Of Bacon Must Be Maintained

EDMONTON (CP) — J. H. Tremblay, agricultural trade commissioner for Canada in northwest Europe in an interview Saturday said Canadian producers have nothing to fear from Danish bacon shipments to the British market, but quality of the product exported from this country must be maintained. He hoped Canada would ship more than 400,000,000 pounds this year.

Chiang Meets Generals

NANKING (AP) — Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek conferred with his generals at Mukden, Manchuria, today as two Chinese Communist columns smashed at Kaiyuan, rail town 60 miles to the north. His visit may indicate new government military action is in the making.

'Hey, You!' You're A Hero!

James Stonier, 3, of San Jose, Calif., caresses cocker spaniel known as "Hey, You!" whose resourcefulness was probably responsible for saving life of his master, Bill Beaudikof, 58. Beaudikof, whose car plunged 150 feet to bottom of ravine when he missed curve on steep winding road, was pinned under vehicle by legs for 15 hours. "Hey, You!" also hurt, crawled painfully to the road, where he barked and ran about, finally attracting attention of passersby.

Liverpool Ousts Wolves Atop English Soccer League

By JACK SULLIVAN
LONDON (CP) — Liverpool jumped to the top of the English Football League's first division Saturday with a 2 to 1 victory over Wolverhampton and postponed settlement of the red-hot championship struggle until June 14.

It was a heart-breaker for the Wolves, who led the table during a large part of the marathon season, to lose. They outplayed Liverpool through the greater part of the second half but could not overcome a two-goal first-half advantage.

The game left Liverpool a point ahead of Wolverhampton and focussed attention on Stoke City's last game of the season against Sheffield United a fortnight hence. Stoke, currently a point behind the Wolves, can tie Liverpool on points by beating Sheffield and win the title on superior goal average. Stoke already is ahead of Liverpool in the latter department and cannot fall behind unless Sheffield wins by a large score.

Manitoba Suspends Brokerage Firm

WINNIPEG (CP) — Market Securities Ltd., Winnipeg brokerage firm, and 11 salesmen in its employ have been suspended until further direction in an order issued by the Manitoba Municipal and Public Utility Board.

Europeans To Get Prevailing Wages In Ontario Woods

FORT WILLIAM (CP) — Europeans to be brought to northwestern Ontario to work in camps operated by the Great Lakes Paper Company will be "treated as Canadians" and paid prevailing rates, Bruce Southon, general woods superintendent, said in an interview Saturday.

Last year the company had searched as far east as Newcastle, N.B., and as far west as North Battleford, Sask., for men to carry out woods operations, and a similar policy was being followed this year. Despite these efforts the company was unable to obtain all the men it required, Southon said.

The European workers will be chosen from displaced persons camps in central Europe. They are expected to reach Canada in July or August, depending on the availability of shipping space. Three Canadian paper companies have sent representatives to Europe in search of about 1,400 men for woods work. Of that number about 300 would be employed by Great Lakes, said Southon.

Junior Chambers Approve Lotteries For Charities

MONTREAL (CP) — A resolution favoring organization by provincial governments of lotteries for charitable and educational purposes was approved unanimously Saturday at closing business session of the 12th annual national convention of the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Canada.

The resolution, submitted by the Shawinigan Falls, Que., chamber, asks the federal government to amend the Criminal Code to permit such lotteries and stipulates that the lotteries should be organized only by the provincial governments.

Also approved unanimously was a resolution from the Port Arthur, Ont., chamber recommending to the Dominion justice and health ministers that they find ways to stamp out "in the nearest future" the current wave of sexual crimes across Canada.

The Levis, Que., chamber submitted a resolution asking the government to extend to 25 the age limit for child dependents for income tax purposes. Such an extension would contribute to a higher standard of education, said the resolution, which was approved.

Girl Of 5 Dies In Farmhouse Fire

EDMONTON (CP) — Janette Cartwright, five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cartwright of Moose Wallow, was burned to death early today when fire destroyed their farm home in the Moose Wallow district, about 88 miles northwest of Edmonton.

Three other children, Betty, 14; Joy, 13; and Mildred, 12, received injuries in the blaze.

The girls were alone in the house at the time. Two brothers, William, 12, and Milton, nine, had left earlier on saddle horses to meet their father, who was six miles away getting mine props. Their mother was at Fort Assiniboine, about 8 miles north.

Betty had managed to get all the children out of the house after being aroused by her sisters, who discovered the fire. She received severe face burns carrying Janette to safety, but the child in the confusion and panic which followed, walked back into the burning house.

Eagles Bolster Lead With Double Victory

With Bob Brousseau and Bob Prior turning in smart low-hit performances, Gar Taylor's Eagles moved further ahead in the senior amateur baseball league race over the week-end, defeating Navy 8 to 1 and Chemainus 11 to 0.

In a Saturday night contest Frank Scroggs of the Legion threw a three hitter at Pitzer and Nex for a 6 to 0 shutout. Scroggs pitched hitless ball after the second inning.

In defeating Chemainus, Bob Prior was masterful. He allowed only one hit, an infield single by Bob Jansch in the first inning, and walked but three. Meanwhile his mates were coming a pair of up-island pitchers for 11 hits, with Harold Yardley picking up four to drive in three runs.

Brousseau allowed Navy just two singles in his winning stand, the lone run coming off him in the third when Sutherland threw the ball into left field attempting to pick off a runner. Only two men reached third base off the young left-hander. Dale led the hitters with two doubles in three trips.

Besides hurling the Legion victory, Scroggs led the stickers with three for four, including a double, drove in three runs and tallied twice.

Legion and Duncan All-stars divided a twin bill at Duncan yesterday, with Lloyd Cann hurling the Vets to a 2 to 1 victory in the opener and Duncan coming back to take the evening slugfest, 13 to 11. Wiegand, Scroggs, Cann and Walker worked in the nightcap and were hit freely.

Tonight's game at Athletic Park is between Pitzer & Nex and Navy, starting at 7.

Legion, Oak Bay Win Island Soccer Finals

Victoria soccer teams provided rough treatment for two Nanaimo elevens in island finals here Saturday. Displaying plenty of dash Canadian Legion turned back the Nanaimo Coast League entry, 3 to 2, to win the island final of the Province Cup series while Oak Bay intermediates edged the up-islanders 2 to 1 to capture the island championship and possession of the Dav Cup.

Legion will meet the acid test here Saturday when they engage Vancouver St. Andrews, champions of the Coast League, in the semifinals. The match will be played at Macdonald Park starting at 6.15.

After completely outplaying Nanaimo in the first half, to grab a 2 to 0 lead, the Legion held off a desperate rally by the visitors in the final 45 minutes. Nanaimo, unable to settle down under the bustling tactics of the Legion failed to show any offensive strength until the final 20 minutes. The Legion players received a great hand from a large crowd at the final whistle.

OLIVER OPENS SCORING
Although they managed to register twice in the first half the Legion passed up many more good opportunities and should have scored at least four corners. Little Ray Oliver opened the scoring after 20 minutes, getting his boot to the ball during a goalmouth scramble and finding the corner of the net. Just before half time veteran George Kulak took a pass from Cliff Robbins and beat goalie Johnston with a ground shot. At the other end Nanaimo had tough luck when centreforward Alvin Parks hit the post with goalie DeCosta beaten.

With time running out in the second half Nanaimo threw their whole team on the attack and the move paid off, Jack Scott picking up a loose ball and flicking it into the top corner. The goal followed a corner kick which DeCosta handled well but cleared poorly when pressed by Jimmy Gold. Legion finally made one of their breakaways pay off with Cliff Robbins beating Johnston after a passing play with Charlie Musgrave and Pickup. With three minutes to go Nanaimo got within one goal again, Parks scoring. Just previously he had hit the upright for the second time.

ROUGH MATCH
In a match marked by plenty of rugged play with referee Art Searle being subjected to plenty of criticism on the part of the Nanaimo players, Oak Bay intermediates won on the strength of a goal, three minutes from time, by Alan Thompson.

First two goals were registered from penalty kicks. Oak Bay moved into the lead when Al Denoni scored from the spot after Bob Menzies, Nanaimo full-back, had been pulled up for charging. Menzies evened up for Nanaimo in the second half, Bruce Robinson, Oak Bay back, being whistled for the same offence. With both clubs working hard for the clincher Thompson gave Oak Bay victory.

Nanaimo forwards had a distinct edge during the match with the Oak Bay back division showing to advantage.

Five C's Defeat Flyers To Bolster Lead In Cricket

Registering a surprisingly easy victory over ex-R.A.F. Saturday, Five C's strengthened their hold on first place in the Victoria and District Cricket League. After dismissing the Flyers for the low score of 24, as Jack Payne and G. Hapworth proved deadly with their bowling deliveries, C's put on 115 runs for the loss of only two wickets. George Payne was high bat with 52.

In a low-scoring fixture Albions defeated the Navy 51 to 32. Leadbeater was high bat for the Albions with 18 and proved their top bowler, taking seven wickets for 14 runs.

With Colquhoun putting on a fine batting display to score 46 runs Oak Bay defeated Incogs 112 to 71. Teammate Ted Parkins pressed Colquhoun for batting honors with 41. Dalziel paced the Incogs with 31.

University School defeated Brentwood College, 34 to 38.

Champions Named At Glenlyon School

At the annual sports meet of Glenlyon Preparatory school, Saturday, attended by a large crowd of parents and friends, championship honors in the senior division were won by Cliffe with a total of 12 points. He also captured the Pariseau cup for the senior 100 yards and the Homer Dixon trophy for the high jump. Coyle won the intermediate

Seals, Oakland Tied For First In Coast League

Pacific Coast League's most hectic week of the season wound up with the bay boys—Oakland and San Francisco—sharing first place today.

Los Angeles, sometimes ruler of the roost in the topsy-turvy race, was back in third position, one game behind the leaders after dropping both ends of a doubleheader to the frisky Seals, 11 to 6 and 6 to 1, yesterday before the season's top crowd of 22,385.

The Seals thus took the series, five games to three, and moved up even with the Oaks, who split with Hollywood to nab a 6 to 2 series-verdict.

Oakland came back on the five-hit pitching of Damon Hayes to take the afterpiece, 6 to 1, after the Hollywood Stars had slugged out a 7 to 1 win in the first game.

The Sacramento Solons took their series with the San Diego Padres, 5 to 3, by sweeping a Sunday twin bill. A 16-hit assault paced by John Rizzo's single, double, homer, enabled the Sacs to squeeze out a 9 to 8 decision. Then they bounced back on little Tony Freitas' slick four-hit whitewash job to win again, 5 to 0.

Seattle and Portland were rained out.

Nothing To Sneeze At, Man Finds Who Designed New Pillow

By JOSEPH FOSTER

CLEVELAND, O.—Because Isadore Shapiro sneezed all night long, away back in 1935, you can laugh at that feather allergy of yours and sleep like a log all night long.

You won't need any shots, or pills, or medicine, either. But you will have to get a prescription from your doctor.

When Shapiro got up after a miserable, sleepless night he went to his doctor. The allergists told him that a rubber covering for mattress and pillows would seal the feather dust in and give him a chance to sleep.

Shapiro, who was then a bedding manufacturer, tried it out. The allergists were wrong. Rubber coverings weren't airtight, he found—and so they weren't dust tight. Besides, they smelled like something a man ought not to have to smell all night.

So Shapiro went on a hunt for some material that would be dust-tight, and wouldn't smell like rubber, and wouldn't deteriorate quickly. It took months, but he found it.

The he burned the records of his bedding company, locked its doors, and threw away the key. Maybe not literally, but that's how he tells it. Anyway, he stopped making bedding and started making casings for mattresses and pillows that would help allergy victims to sleep in peace.

"Everybody thought I was crazy," he says, "but I stuck to it."

Now everybody says he was crazy like a fox. He netted $75,000 last year on the new business.

Shapiro knew nothing about allergies except that he had one for goose feathers, and it made him sneeze. He started studying all allergies. A hay fever victim, librarian at the Cleveland Public Library helped him enthusiastically. Together they thought of a name for his new business—Allergen-Proof Encasings, Inc.

He toured the country, talking with allergy specialists and telling them what he planned to do. They encouraged him, and 1,800 specialists now recommend his product to patients whose allergy is the dust from any sort of stuffing used in mattresses or pillows.

That, in fact, is the only way Shapiro's odorless, rubberized coverings are sold—by prescription of a physician.

But if the cat or dog uses your bed, too, and it's the dust from his fur that keeps you awake, even Shapiro's allergen-proof pillow case can't help you.

Mountbatten Tells Indian Heads Britain's Plan To Yield Power

NEW DELHI (Reuter)—Viscount Mountbatten, the Viceroy, today disclosed to seven Indian leaders the British government's plan for transfer of power to Indian hands—a plan which will ring the curtain down on more than 150 years of British rule.

The Viceroy, who recently returned to India after consultations in Britain with the cabinet, will publicly outline the plan Tuesday in a broadcast.

Today's conference adjourned after two hours. It will be resumed tomorrow after the working committees of the three groups involved—Moslem, Hindu and Sikh—have considered the plan.

Mohammed Ali Jinnah, president of the Moslem League, stayed behind for 20 minutes after the other leaders had left the lodge.

GANDHI TALKS

Mohandas K. Gandhi was summoned from the Sweepers colony after the conference for a private talk with Lord Mountbatten.

Tomorrow the Viceroy will meet the Nawab of Bhopal, Chancellor of the Chamber of Princes, and 14 representatives of Indian states.

Widespread security measures were carried out today throughout India in preparation for any outbreaks of communal rioting.

In New Delhi special precautions were taken against any disturbance or demonstration during the talks. Indian and foreign press photographers were barred from the meeting. Only one official government photographer was allowed to take pictures of the men gathered for the conference.

A report from Peshawar said Moslem League demonstrators had burned an effigy of Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, Hindu vice-president of the Indian Interim Government, in the town of Kohat.

In Bombay a 35-hour curfew was imposed on a section of the mill area in the north of the city. No incidents occurred, but it was believed this was a precaution against celebration of "United India" Day by certain political bodies. Workers in most of the city's textile mills left their jobs.

None of the Indian conferees, who included representatives of the predominantly Hindu Congress Party, Moslem League and the Sikhs, gave any indication of the nature of the plan presented to them or of their reaction to it.

However, it was generally conceded that Lord Mountbatten had made a final appeal for adoption of the British cabinet mission plan for a united India. The alternative, to which Britain was reported reluctantly ready to agree, was partition of India into Hindustan and an independent Moslem state of Pakistan.

The Congress Party already has approved the cabinet mission plan. The Moslem League rejected the plan after first accepting it in principle, and there seemed no reason to hope for a last-minute change in the Moslem attitude.

BERLIN (Reuter)—About 10 workers clearing up the debris of the former German Air Ministry in Berlin were buried today when parts of the building collapsed.

Up-Island Taxpayers Form Association; Demand Tax Cuts

Up-island taxpayers Saturday night formed a new association, the Vancouver Island Ratepayers' Association, to seek a better deal for rural school taxpayers.

The association was formed at a meeting held in Nanaimo at which delegates were present from Cedar, Nanose Bay, Courtenay, Diamond, Harewood, Saltair, South Cowichan, North Oyster, Cherry Point, Alberni, Parksville and Port Alberni.

The association called in Premier John Hart to use his administrative powers to the end that taxation for education purposes be removed from land and improvements immediately.

President of the newly-formed association is A. D. Clelland, Saltair. Other officers are A. Lewis, South Cowichan, vice-president; G. Wyndlowe, Ladysmith, secretary-treasurer.

While demands for abolition or reduction of school taxes from land pour in to the government, Municipal Affairs Minister R. C. MacDonald has announced the setting up of an inter-departmental committee to advise the government on the appointment of a commission on tax equalization.

A resolution of the newly-formed association contended that revenue for school purposes should be raised by means of a tax which "bears fairly and equally upon all the people of this province."

Province Buys 2 Lots

The provincial government has completed the purchase of two lots on Michigan Street behind the Parliament Buildings.

Works Minister E. C. Carson said that the government had no particular plans for use of the lots. Purchase of the lots gives the government ownership of the whole block bounded by Michigan, Superior, Government and Menzies Streets.

On part of the block on which several government buildings are already erected, including the King's Printer office, the government plans shortly to erect a temporary office building to house overflow staffs from the Parliament Buildings.

Calling of tenders for this building, which will cost about $180,000, has been delayed by approval of the electrical work.

Quebec Sailors Hit Snag On British Columbia Drinking Law

"I think it would be advisable for the ships to inform new arrivals here from the east as to British Columbia liquor regulations," commented Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court this morning when he decided to give four sailors who had recently come to the coast from the province of Quebec suspended sentence for consuming beer in a public place.

Constable W. Andrews told the court of the four, armed with two cases of ale, drinking in Beacon Hill Park, about 200 yards from the Douglas Street entrance, on May 26.

The sailors had only been on the coast three months and were unfamiliar with western regulations on liquor drinking, their superior officer told the magistrate.

On a question from Magistrate Hall, the superior officer said that laws governing drinking were much more lax in Quebec, but assured the court that the offence committed by the sailors was not done with intent to break the law, but rather from not being familiar with the B.C. law.

Magistrate Hall pointed out that the usual minimum fine for an act such as the sailors were charged with was $50 and felt that it would be a good idea if the ships conveyed this information to newcomers here.

"While I agree to a suspension this time, I cannot suspend in the case of a second offence," he said.

May Set All-Time Sunshine Record

The mercury hit an all-time record during May when it climbed to 85 on the 26th of the month, officials of the Dominion Meteorological Observatory here, announced today. Victorians enjoyed 291 hours of sunshine which is 20 hours more sunshine than is usual for the month.

Total precipitation for the month, 0.21 inches, 0.75 inches below normal. The total precipitation from the first of January now totals 13.14 inches, 1.52 inches above normal.

Mean temperature for the month was 56 degrees which is 3 degrees above normal.

Minimum temperature was registered on the third and tenth days of the month when the mercury dropped to 42 degrees.

Price Of Meals May Be Boosted

A slight increase in the price of meals, ranging from five to 10 cents is expected in Victoria if the price ceilings on meals, as forecast, are lifted, restaurant owners indicated here today.

Some restaurant proprietors said, however, that they would not raise the price of a full course meal, unless there was an overall increase in the price of food.

Items such as sandwiches may be boosted slightly by some restaurants. One proprietor said that he made no profit on certain types of sandwiches, such as cheese.

"Some restaurants are selling some sandwiches at 10 cents each," he said, "while others are selling them for 20 cents or more. We may bring up our prices in line with the others in this respect."

It was pointed out that since the ceiling prices on restaurant meals were advanced 10 per cent some months ago, costs had increased since then and it might be necessary to raise the meals slightly.

Norway Gets Destroyers

Seattle Professor Dies

SEATTLE (AP)—Prof. George Samuel Wilson, 67, author of numerous technical papers on mechanical engineering and a member of the University of Washington faculty since 1906, died suddenly today at his home of a heart attack.

Whittaker Uninformed Of Appointment Rumor

Hon. Norman W. Whittaker, K.C., Speaker of the British Columbia Legislature, said here today that he had no information on reports that his was one of two names mentioned for appointment to British Columbia Supreme Court.

Reports from Ottawa during the week-end said Mr. Whittaker and Magistrate Herbert Woods, Vancouver, judge of the Family Court, were the most prominently mentioned as probable appointees.

A resolution preliminary to the introduction of a bill to increase the number of B.C. Supreme Court judges from six to seven will be dealt with by the House of Commons today, which added that two or more weeks may pass before the bill is approved and receives Royal assent. The appointment will follow the final approval of the bill.

Delay Transit By-law Passage

Final passage of the transportation by-law was given and then the motion rescinded, at a special meeting of the City Council today, when it was learned that the school building by-law was not yet ready.

Ald. H. M. Diggon, chairman of the transportation committee said that the plan was to have both by-laws presented to the people June 19. When council learned that the matter must go to the people, 21 days after final passage of the by-law, they decided to rescind as the latest date the matter could go to the public would be June 23.

"It would be very regrettable if the school by-law is not ready for presentation by June 19," Ald. Diggon said.

Annual Air Force Day Inaugurated

OTTAWA (CP)—Defence Minister Claxton today announced inauguration of an annual Air Force Day designed to give Canadians a better chance to see and learn at first hand about the activities of their air force, which played such a big part in the war.

Air Force Day will be celebrated June 14 this year and annually thereafter it will fall on the first Saturday in June unless the following Monday is proclaimed the day on which the King's birthday is to be celebrated. In that case Air Force Day will be observed on the second Saturday in June.

R.C.A.F. stations across the country will hold open house, inviting the public to witness demonstrations and displays.

In addition to regular air force personnel, the minister said some of the auxiliary and reserve air forces will take part along with air force cadets.

Municipal Officers Talk Over Problems

Victoria today is host to city and municipal clerks and other municipal officers from all organized sections of the province who are here to talk over municipal problems with officials of the provincial municipal affairs department.

Tomorrow night the government will tender the municipal officials a dinner at the Empress Hotel.

The discussions are held annually at the Parliament Buildings.

Manslaughter Case To Open Thursday

The preliminary hearing of Tang Yen, charged with manslaughter through the traffic death of Miss Mary Emma LePage, aged 80, on April 24, will open Thursday in city police court. It was decided this morning when accused appeared before Magistrate Henry C. Hall for a date to be set.

The manslaughter charge arose following the death of Miss LePage, a pedestrian, when she was struck by a car alleged to have been driven by Yen at Vancouver and Fort Streets on the evening of April 20. Alan Baker appeared for accused.

Town Topics

Monthly meeting of Victoria Branch No. 5, Old Age Pensioners' organization, will be held Wednesday afternoon, at 2, in the new K. of P. Hall, Cormorant Street. Speaker will be Edward Navey, president of the executive council of B.C.

R. Pickering of 15 Oxford Street, Strichley, Birmingham, has written the city clerk's office, asking aid in contacting his brother, G. W. Pickering, last heard from at 1028 View Street, Victoria, in September of 1930. He has been in Victoria 37 years.

Action of City Council in approving erection by Wartime Housing Limited of a further 50 homes for war veterans, was landed by the Victoria and District Zone Council of the Canadian Legion, in a letter received at the City Hall today, signed by J. Wittcomb, secretary.

In Greater Victoria police stations today the usual Monday activity was non-existent. The past week-end was most orderly. It was one of the quietest week-ends of the year. One or two items were recorded in the theft column but no safes were cracked open.

Two gardens in the Rockland Avenue district will be visited by members of the Victoria Horticultural Society during the evening of Wednesday, June 13. Alan B. Morikill will conduct the visitors through his own garden and that of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Barmard, giving the history and culture of the many specimens that have been collected.

Monthly meeting of the Victoria Horticultural Society will be held in the City Hall Tuesday, at 7.30, and an invitation is extended to all who are interested in gardening to attend. Following the question and answer period, Dr. H. T. Gussow, who for many years was chief entomologist with the Dominion government at Ottawa, will give a talk entitled "More Green Fingers."

Stanley Tomczyk pleaded guilty to a charge of dangerous driving at 4.55 this morning on Belleville Street between Government and Menzies Streets and was fined $50, or in default seven days in jail, by Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court. His license was also suspended. According to police testimony he was driving west on Belleville collided with a parked California car.

The June show of flowers, fruit and vegetables, under the auspices of the Victoria Horticultural Society, will be held in the Crystal Garden, June 20 and 21. Amateurs and professionals, regardless of membership in the society, may compete. Classes have been arranged for displays, artistic arrangements, sweet peas, roses, miscellaneous flowers, fruits and vegetables. Catalogues may be obtained from the secretary at Garden 4212.

28 Fairbridge Farm Newcomers Busy Exploring Countryside

Fitting into the Canadian way of life, is proving no problem at all to 28 children between the ages of 8 and 12 years who arrived at Fairbridge Farm School near Duncan Saturday afternoon from England, according to George Warnock, assistant principal of the school.

The 26 boys and two girls who come from various parts of the British Isles, will learn farming, prepare to enter trades and professions and later become Canadian citizens.

"They were out exploring the countryside all day yesterday and some of them are out today despite the rain," said Mr. Warnock, who accompanied them from England.

"They watched Canadian games and are fitting in very well indeed. They are generally getting a great kick out of life."

Majority of the children, 10 in number, came from the greater Newcastle-on-Tyne area. There are four from London and representatives from the following cities: Glasgow, St. Ives, Skipton, Oxchott, Birkley, Coulsdon, Birmingham, Redruth, Wallsend-on-Tyne, Isleworth, Southborough and two from Oxford.

"They loved the Canadian food but found that after the austere English diet had to stop eating rich fare on the train trip out, for a few days. To date they have not used any Canadian slang, but that is one of the first things they pick up."

The children were chosen on a basis of mental ability and physical fitness with a fine mental average noted in this group, said Mr. Warnock, who has been at Fairbridge since 1938.

"A number of the children have been with Fairbridge in England at Bennington Place," he added.

The plan of aiding children of underprivileged classes to careers in new countries was begun in Australia in 1909 and British Columbia's Fairbridge Farm has been doing similar work since the plan was first instituted in Canada in 1935.

Annual grants from the provincial government and from the British government and other financial help from interested parties in England, provide for the maintenance of farm properties located on 1,200 acres and for the education of the children conducted under the supervision of the B.C. Department of Education.

Tips For Gardeners By W. H. Warren— Watch Watering

In Garden Notes, the monthly publication of the Victoria Horticultural Society, W. H. Warren, park superintendent in Victoria, gives suggestions to gardeners of Victoria and vicinity.

Vegetable growers may still make successive sowings of corn, beans, beets, lettuce, chard, carrots, squash, marrow and pumpkin, late fall and winter maturing broccoli, both head and sprouting varieties and even potatoes, he says.

Brussels sprouts and spring sown broccoli may be transplanted to their permanent location, also leeks, celery and tomatoes. Seed of swede turnips may be sown any time this month. Closely check all members of the cabbage family for flea beetles, aphids, root weevil and cut worms. Knowing what to expect in the way of pests is half the battle.

Getting under the weeds while they are small and using a stirrup hoe to do it, will save a lot of time. Even though it hurts to do it, thin out plants early, and reap the reward of superior vegetables and flowers. Only water when necessary and then do it thoroughly, for alternate periods of drought and saturation are conditions that stunt the plants. Beside being conducive to unthrifty growth, it encourages insect infestation and physiological diseases such as that which makes the black spot in potatoes.

KEEP SEED MOIST
In the flower garden, wall-flowers, stocks, primulas, hollyhock, forget-me-not, Canterbury bells and other biennials may be sown now for next year's bloom. Never allow the seed to become dry during the germinating period as this is the reason for most seed failure, particularly during the hot weather. Watch the watering carefully for we have noticed that a day or two of heavy rains is as desiccating to vegetation as a week of hot weather.

The man who goes after lawn weeds today on his hands and knees with a weeder, is living in the dark ages figuratively speaking. No garden expenditure gives more satisfaction than the few cents paid for any of the standard brands of weed-killer containing 2-4-D. Effective results may be obtained this month when the growth is active. Two warnings are necessary—keep the spray away from all garden plants and rinse the sprayer out most thoroughly with soap and hot water after use.

Victim Of Fire Accuses Landlord

HAMILTON (CP)—Shortly after being informed that Mrs. Pearl Dobbins, 48, had died of burns suffered when her home was gutted by fire Thursday night, J. W. Thompson, inspector of detectives, announced today that a charge of murder would be laid against her landlord, Joseph Bella.

STICK-UP—Up to his neck in sweet—but sticky—syrup is Henry Cuhel, watchman in a Chicago carbonated beverage plant. Robbers left him this way when they broke in to steal 30 bags of sugar. Cuhel was so stuck up he couldn't move.

June meeting of the Victoria and District Chrysanthemum Society will be held at the City

IS THIS A FAIR WAY TO PRESENT THE $8,000,000 WAGE OFFER OF THE COASTAL LUMBER INDUSTRY?

On May 19, in negotiations for a contract renewal with the I.W.A. coastal lumber industry employers made an offer of a 10 per cent general wage increase with minimum increase of 10 cents per hour, based on a 44-hour week. The substantially higher hourly rates proposed would involve the expenditure by the industry during the ensuing 12 months of approximately $8,000,000 more in wages than during the previous 12 months.

On May 26, after taking a week to consider the offer, I.W.A. representatives stated that they would "sound out the feelings" of their membership on the employers' proposals in a union conducted ballot, asking if they were in favor of its acceptance or rejection.

What the Wage Proposal Means

LOGGING:

Common Labor:

OCCUPATION	RATE MAY, 1946	PRESENT RATE SINCE JUNE 20, 1946	PROPOSED BY OPERATORS
Dishwasher	$ 5.41	$ 6.61	$ 7.41
Section Hands	5.00	6.80	7.60
Wood Splitters	5.96	7.16	7.96

LOGGING CREWS:

Signal Punks (Boys)	6.08	7.28	8.08
Chokermen	6.64	7.84	8.64
Rigging Ringers	7.76	8.96	9.76
Yarding Engineers	8.32	9.52	10.32
Head Loaders	9.11	10.31	11.11
High Riggers	10.16	11.36	12.16

Fallers and Buckers whose daily earnings now range from $13.50 to $20.00 per day will receive a 10% increase on their contract rates.

SAWMILLS:

Common Labor	Per Hour $.87	Per Hour $.92	Per Hour $.95
Other Occupations	.72-1.67	.87-1.82	.97-2.60

THE BALLOT DOES NOT PROVIDE FOR SPECIFIC ACCEPTANCE OF THE OPERATORS' PROPOSALS, NOR DOES IT STATE THAT EMPLOYERS OFFER A 10 PER CENT GENERAL WAGE INCREASE WITH A MINIMUM RISE OF 10 CENTS AN HOUR.

The second question in the ballot virtually seeks authorization for strike action prior to completion of negotiations.

This is the same pattern of action that cost workers $8,000,000 in wages and lost the province 300,000,000 feet of timber production in the disastrous 1946 strike. It is against all accepted principles of sound and fair collective bargaining and threatens new disruption to employment and earning power in B. C.

HERE IS THE WORDING OF THE I.W.A. BALLOT:

1. Do you desire your District Policy Committee to reject the employers' counter-proposals and continue negotiations for our Union's 1947 demands?

YES..... NO.....

2. Failing satisfactory concessions to our membership on our 1947 demands, do you authorize our District Policy Committee to call a strike?

YES..... NO.....

LORETTA YOUNG, right, submits her resignation as maid to her employers, Ethel Barrymore and Joseph Cotten, as she leaves to begin an election campaign in "The Farmer's Daughter," RKO Radio's romantic comedy-drama in which they co-star at the Royal Theatre.

'Dead Reckoning' Comes To Atlas

The next Arctic expedition would do well to include a print of John Cromwell's "Dead Reckoning" as part of its standard equipment.

Reason for this is apparent when it is recalled that the Columbia production, which opens today at the Atlas Theatre, brings together for the first time on the screen hard-boiled Humphrey Bogart and sultry Elizabeth Scott in some of the most sizzling love sequences ever.

Genuine Sets Seen In Film 'Bedelia'

Set decorations and furniture for use in the interior of the Carrington House in England, setting for the last half of Eagle-Lion's new dramatic film, "Bedelia," opening today at the Capitol Theatre, were borrowed from various prominent people in England.

Some beautiful Queen Anne and King Charles chairs were loaned by Capt. William Ogden, jeweler to the Royal household. The Persian carpets, belonging to art director Duncan Sutherland, were brought over from Teheran. The miniatures were borrowed from the world-famous Williamson collection.

New Comedy-Drama On Royal Screen

A scandalous story, trumped up to smear a Congressional candidate, leads to climactic denouement in RKO Radio's new comedy-drama, "The Farmer's Daughter," starring Loretta Young, Joseph Cotten and Ethel Barrymore and now at the Royal Theatre.

Cotten is a young Congressman who falls in love with the farm girl, Miss Young, and Miss Barrymore plays his politically powerful mother. Featured are Charles Bickford as an unusual and amusing butler, Rose Hobart and Tom Powers. H. C. Potter directed the Dore Schary production.

Hold 'Stairway To Heaven' At Plaza

More than a thousand blueprints, four dozen miniature models and three months' work by a crew of architects and engineers were required to create the sets of "Stairway to Heaven," held over at the Plaza Theatre. The Universal-International release co-stars David Niven, Raymond Massey and Roger Livesey with Kim Hunter playing the feminine lead. It is one of the most elaborately designed productions ever made.

DOMINION THEATRE

When Arthur Lake, featured in Columbia's "Blondie's Holiday" with Penny Singleton and Larry Simms, bought a race-horse recently, Jerome Cowan, who plays the part of Lake's boss in the picture, asked the star what name he had selected for the animal. Incidentally, the film, currently at the Dominion Theatre, touches on horse-racing and betting.

"I guess I'll call him 'Baseball,'" said Lake. "Why that?" exclaimed Cowan.

"Because," said the Dagwood Bumstead of the screen, "he's covered with horsehide!"

CAN BEAUTY QUEENS REALLY ACT?

HOLLYWOOD (NEA)—Marilyn Buford, this year's Miss America, may soon get a choice role at M-G-M, we hear. Gale Robbins, Miss Chicago of 1938, has just landed the second lead in Milton Sperling's "Ever the Beginning" at Warner Brothers.

Maybe Marilyn and Gale will blast the old Hollywood bugaboo—that beauties can't act.

Venus Ramey, Miss America of 1945, couldn't do it, though. Venus just went home to Somerset, Ky., after nine months of haunting casting offices without luck. But she still had a sense of humor. She told me her father had given her a tomato canner in Kentucky and that she would go back there and run it. She added:

"Many a vegetable has been thrown at a would-be actress, but I am the first would-be actress to be thrown at the vegetables."

Ty Power is pleading with Annabella to give him a divorce as soon as possible. The reason, of course, is pretty obvious. Her name is Lana Turner.

Cary Grant and his favorite girl friend, Betty Hensel, have called it a day. Ed Gardner is talking to Irving Berlin about writing the music for a new Duffy's Tavern movie.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

The very pretty Iris Bynum who has been sharing dates with Clark Gable and Orson Welles is the same girl who was engaged not so long ago to Bing Crosby's script writer, Bill Morrow.

This is Hollywood, Mr. Jones: Enterprise Studio bought "Body and Soul" as a theme song for a movie. They threw away the song and kept the title.

Martha Stewart, comedian Joe E. Lewis' wife, and Mrs. Danny Kaye were talking about the latter's new baby. "Why," asked Martha, "did you name her Deena?" Mrs. Kaye explained how that was the name of Danny's first successful record. "You mean," laughed Martha, "that if I have a baby I'll have to call him 'Sam, You Made the Pants Too Long'?"

SUMMER SEASON

Constance Bennett will star in "Over 21" in summer stock. It's about an army wife in Alabama. During the war, Connie was just that... M-G-M quietly has dropped Jan Clayton, imported from Broadway after her hit in "Carousel."

In all the talk around Hollywood about rival technicolor queens—Lorraine Day in "Tycoon" and Maureen O'Hara—everyone is forgetting the original technicolor king, Sir Cedric Hardwicke.

Hardwicke was lured away from the New York stage to appear in one of the first full-length color films, "Becky Sharp." Main reason was that his "typical pink and white English" complexion was most effective of all those tested for the new color film.

It's good to hear that Jack Benny is packing in the customers on his eastern personal appearance tour. The best gag in Jack's act, of course, is his repeated efforts to play the violin. He just about succeeds at the end of the show when they lower the screen and the newsreel starts.

RIO THEATRE

Mary Astor returns to the screen with bad man Humphrey Bogart in the most baffling mystery of the year. "The Maltese Falcon," now showing at the Rio Theatre brings the Fat Man Sidney Greenstreet and Peter Lorre as the most powerful menace team to appear on any screen for many a year. List War Property At Nanaimo For Demolition And Salvage Further demolition of former temporary Crown-owned buildings to furnish lumber and lighting, plumbing and heating equipment is announced by the War Assets Corporation at such widely-separated sites as Nanaimo, on Vancouver Island, and Bouchard, Quebec, 20 miles northwest of Montreal. Other sites at which demolition is proceeding, or about to commence, are Terrace, B.C., Prince George, B.C., and Shilo, Manitoba, where important and extensive army and airforce stations had been maintained. Material salvaged from these operations will be distributed under allocations by the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation.

Terrace, Nanaimo, Prince

George and Shilo will each produce quantities of timber and supplies available to builders in those particular areas.

Demolition of a large number of buildings at Debert Camp in Nova Scotia is now nearing completion.

Jewish Leaders Score Terrorists

MONTREAL (CP)—Dr. Nahum Goldman, chairman of the executive of the World Jewish Congress, speaking to the seventh plenary session of the Canadian Jewish Congress Sunday night, rapped terrorism in Palestine and deplored the "glorification" of Dov Gruher and other "heroes" of the terrorist movement.

"Dov Bela Gruher may have been an idealist, but politically he was a criminal," said the speaker. "Who gave him, or any of those boys the right to set themselves, without election or any pretence at democratic procedure, against the wishes and desires of the great majority of Jews in Palestine and all over the world?"

"Terrorists in Palestine today and those who glorify them," Dr. Goldman said, "are the greatest danger to the realization of our hopes for a Jewish national home in Palestine."

A Vancouver delegate, Charles Walfish, condemned the "terroristic acts of a tiny minority in Palestine Jewry" which he said was doing much harm to Jews in the Holy Land and elsewhere.

"They are besmirching the good name of Jews and they are clouding the Jewish case for Palestine, which is based on the peace-loving character of the Jewish people and on the high ideals which are the foundation of Zionism. Our enemies could have derived no more damaging plot against us if they had schemed for a decade."

Seattle Boy Leads K. of P. Contest

Don Haven of Seattle delivers the winning address in K. of P. contest. Beside him, left to right, are Vernon Reynolds of Milton, Oregon; Jan Rathbun, Lewiston, Idaho, and Tom Bulman, Vernon, B.C.

Don Haven of Seattle took first place in the sectional finals of The Supreme Lodge, Knights of Pythias, public speaking contest, held in the new K. of P. Hall, Saturday night, and won for himself the right to proceed to Salt Lake City for the regional contest.

Competing with him were Vernon Reynolds of Milton, Oregon; Jan Rathbun, only girl in the contest from Lewiston, Idaho, and Tom Bulman of Vernon, B.C.

Speaking on the topic of juvenile delinquency, young Haven said that much of the cause of the problem was due to ineffectual home and school environment, where "the failure to teach and encourage a strong and vital home life was partly responsible for youth looking elsewhere for means of building their own importance."

Increased salaries for teachers, reformation of schools, to encourage more interest in the future of the students, promotion of youth organizations and provision by parents of membership in some church, were suggested as means whereby juvenile delinquency could be cured, before it started.

There was only a small margin of points between the contestants with the judges finding all speeches "exceptionally good."

Judges were: Frank Paulding, Willard Ireland, and Dr. Henrietta Anderson.

All three judges congratulated the Knights of Pythias on their advancement of the interest in public speaking among schools and young people.

"In my 25 years as a member of service clubs I have never seen anything to compare with this project of the Knights of Pythias towards the advancement of the youth of our country," said Mr.

Paulding. "They have done something to help this world of ours, these contestants and themselves to a clearer thought, higher ideals and a better way of life."

Walter Gleason, deputy supreme chancellor was in the chair, supported by Ray Toplis, grand chancellor. Members on the local committee included: Al Henry, Bob Abbott, George Hawkins, Jim Gibb, Al Morgan and Hans Lindstrom. Dave Stewart led community singing.

Film Depicts Juvenile Court

A film depicting juvenile court procedure and the value of probation in helping children to channel their energies from destructive purposes to constructive ones, was shown at the meeting of Juvenile and Probation Officers' Committee for Victoria. A. Rudge presided.

It was decided to ask the Community Welfare Council to consider purchasing the film entitled: "Boy in Court" for use in the community.

In conjunction with the B.C. Probation Officers' Association, a request for a refresher course will be forwarded to the social work department of University of British Columbia. At the next meeting a study of the National Probation Association's manual, "Probation and Parole" will be commenced.

Week-end Accidents

At 4:25 Sunday afternoon damage was done to vehicles operated by Katherine Wilson, 873 Humboldt Street, proceeding east on Hollywood Crescent, and John Clarence Stilman, 1246 Balmoral Road, parked on the south side of Hollywood at St. Charles Street, when they met in collision, city police reported.

Four persons sustained minor hurts, such as shock, bruises and cuts, in an accident at 11:20 Saturday night at Pandora Avenue and Vancouver Street in a collision between cars being driven west on Pandora by A. C. Willoughby, Sooke Road, and north on Vancouver and turning to go west on Pandora by Joseph V. Blais, 1319 Vancouver Street, according to police.

B.C. Strawberry Crop This Year Estimated At 10,044,000 Pounds

The provincial agriculture department today estimated British Columbia's 1947 strawberry crop, now beginning to move to market from farms on Vancouver Island and the lower mainland, would total 558,000 18-pound crates, a gain of 143,225 crates over the 1946 crop.

According to the department estimates the strawberry crop will be higher than last year in almost all districts this year, the biggest gain being in the Fraser Valley, largest strawberry producing area of the province. There the department has estimated the crop will total 490,000 crates, a gain of 134,796 over 1946.

On Vancouver Island, the second largest producing area, the strawberry crop for this year is estimated at 30,000 crates. Last year 24,821 crates were picked on Vancouver Island strawberry farms.

The raspberry crop for 1947 is estimated at 710,100 crates, compared with 681,870 in 1946, while the loganberry crop will total 98,245 crates this year, compared to 90,934 last year. The 1947 blackberry crop has been estimated at 74,600 crates, down slightly from the 1946 total of 75,776 crates.

The department estimates the gooseberry crop this year at 3,975 crates an increase of 67 crates over 1946, and the black currant crop will be down 230 crates from last year to 16,900 crates. More red currants are expected to be picked this year, however, the crop being estimated at 3,100 crates, compared with 2,628 last year.

Farms of Vancouver Island and the Gulf Islands today got what they needed, rain. The department had reported earlier that rain "would be of great value."

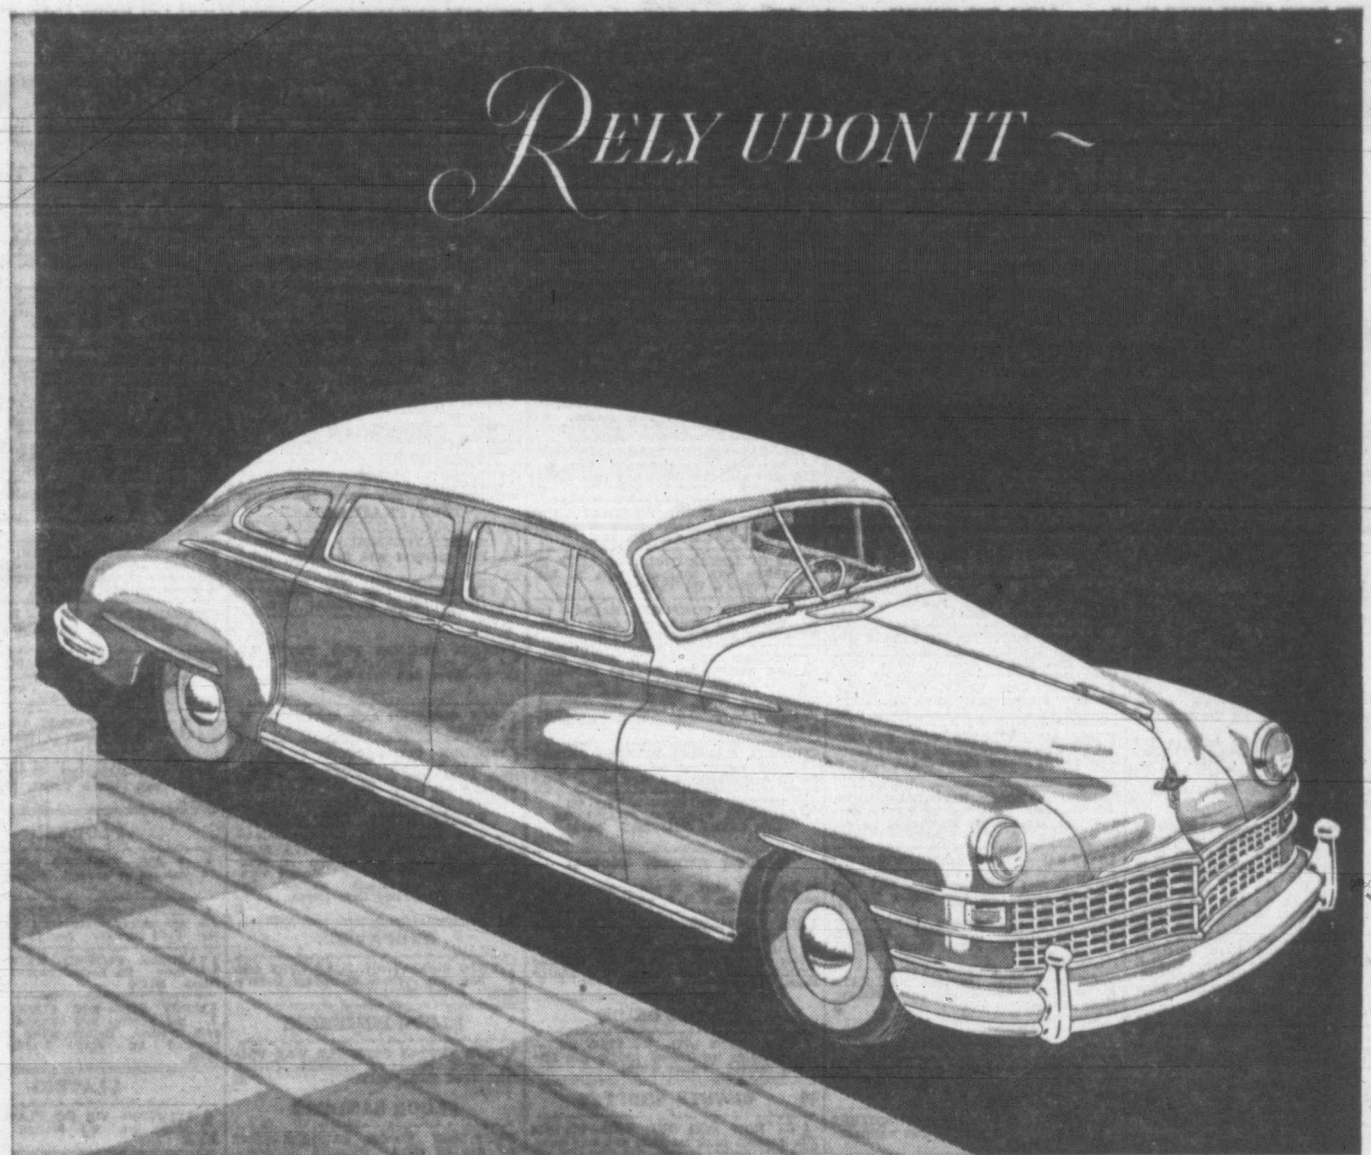

Strawberries from island farms should begin to move to market in volume this week. The department said prices this year were lower than last.

"Vegetable crops are making fair progress and supplies are normal," the department said of the Vancouver Island and Gulf Islands crop. "Three carloads of hothouse tomatoes have rolled to eastern Canadian points. Local new potatoes will soon be on the market. Late potato planting is being completed."

The department also said that grain and hay crops on the island were average and pasturage good.

MANCHESTER — A five-year $8,000,000 ($32,000,000) development plan for Manchester's schools is before the city council. It calls for 32 new secondary schools and 21 new primary schools.
